

American Declarations Are Accepted By Kaiser

Ambassador Bernstorff Informs Secretary Lansing of His Country's Acceptance of the Principle That Passenger Ships Are Not to Be Attacked Without Warning

DANGEROUS FRICTION BETWEEN GERMANY AND U. S. PASSED

Ambassador Says This Principle Was Ready for Acceptance Before Arabic Was Sunk—Reparation for American Loss in Lusitania, Arabic and Other Ships Torpedoed Will Be Next Step—American Diplomats Highly Gratified Over the Solution of the Submarine Question.

By Associated Press.
Washington, September 1.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, on instructions from Berlin, verbally informed Secretary Lansing today that the German government had accepted the principle that passenger liners should be warned before attacks by submarines.

Secretary Lansing, following the visit, said: "The German ambassador told me that his government would accept our declarations regarding submarine warfare in principle."

"The ambassador agreed to reduce his statement to writing, which he will submit to me later in the day."

Secretary Lansing said he would withhold comment until this was received. He did not know whether the whole statement would be made public.

Acceptance of the principle that passenger ships are not to be attacked without warning, would be considered as an answer to President Wilson's last note on the Lusitania.

If it is established clearly that Germany has yielded to the representations of this government respecting safety of neutrals on the high seas, it is believed the submarine controversy will be well under way toward an amicable settlement.

On information from Ambassador Page at London, it was learned today, State Department officials have been convinced that the German submarine which sank the Arabic was itself sunk later by a British warship, and that no report from her commander can be expected.

Ambassador von Bernstorff later sent Secretary Lansing a letter, saying:

"With reference to our conversation of this morning, I beg to inform you that my instructions concerning our answer to your last Lusitania note contains the following passage: 'Liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of non-combatants, provided that the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance.'

"Although I know that you do not wish to discuss the Lusitania question until the Arabic incident has been definitely and satisfactorily settled, I desire to inform you of the above because this policy of my government was decided upon before the Arabic incident occurred."

Secretary Lansing then made the following statement:

"In view of the clearness of the foregoing statement, it seems needless to make any comment other than to say that it appears to be a recognition of the fundamental principles for which we have contended." Everywhere in official circles gratification was evident that the submarine crisis had passed.

The question of reparation for the Americans who lost their lives on the Lusitania, Arabic and other ships which have been torpedoed probably will be the next step in the proceedings.

CONFIRMS DEATH OF GREAT PEGGOLD

Boston, September 1.—The American bark Ruth Stark, of Boston, was held up off the Irish coast August 3 by a German submarine, which fired one warning shot and a second aimed at the vessel, the captain reported today.

After learning the bark's identity she was permitted to proceed.

JUDGE IGNORES VICTIM'S NAME

Marietta, Ga., September 1.—The Cobb county jury assembled today to investigate the lynching of Leo M. Frank.

Judge Patterson, in his charge, did not mention the name of Frank, saying only, "it has been published broadcast over the world that a lynching has recently occurred in Cobb county."

AMERICANS RESTING ON THEIR GUNS

By Associated Press.
Sierra Blanca, Texas, September 1.—Men of the Big Bend county were under arms today for fear of reprisals by General Pascual Orozco's organization of "Colorados," as the result of the killing of the most noted Mexican leader by United States soldiers and Texas rangers Monday.

American authorities have formed a theory that Orozco was trying to bring to focus an organized invasion of Texas on a large scale, under the name of Nationalist Party, into which malcontents of all factions were to be drawn.

It was to align itself with Carranza, in case Carranza refused to accept the A. B. C. plan for a peace conference.

Twenty-four ranchowners, cowboys, custom house officials and cavalry troops participated in the 24-hour hunt which ended in Orozco's death.

BARTLOW REFUSES TO QUIT

Columbus, September 1.—Bert S. Biglow, of Hamilton, Democrat, today refused to surrender his office of chief inspector in the dairy and food division of the State Board of Agriculture to Thomas L. Calvert, of Clark county, appointed by the State Board, Monday.

Bartlow maintained he was protected against removal by civil service rules.

Rennick W. Dunlap, secretary of the board, told the clerical force to take orders from Calvert.

Dismissal of Democratic employees in different state departments continued today.

EASTERN ARENA NOW BRISTLING

Geneva, Switzerland, September 1.—The Journal De Geneva states that Germany has prepared not one but two strong lines of defense from the North sea to Switzerland. From the same source comes the affirmation that after consolidating its position around Warsaw, the Germans will entrench all along the Russian front and wait for peace in most favorable conditions. According to this authority, von Hindenburg's plan does not involve a pursuit of the Russian army beyond the line required to rectify the front east of Warsaw.

ALARM SEIZES HEARTS

By Associated Press.

New York, September 1.—English money, already depreciated without parallel in the history of finance, took another phenomenal drop today. The pound sterling sold at $4.50, a break of 5 1/4 cents overnight.

Continued depreciation, it was thought, would affect thousands of American workmen, by closing down factories now supplying England with commodities, since foreign orders would be cancelled.

No cancellation of war orders have been reported yet.

Paris, September 1.—The Serbian government has informed Greece that it intends to comply with the requests of the quadruple entente, concerning the concessions demanded by Bulgaria, says an Athens dispatch.

Paris, September 1.—Japan may co-operate in the campaign to force the Dardanelles, according to an impression gathered from remarks recently made by Baron Hayashi, Japanese ambassador to Italy.

Berlin, September 1.—An official review of the eastern campaign estimates that since May 2, the Russians have lost at least 300,000 men, in killed or wounded, and 1,100,000 men captured by the Germans.

Petrograd, September 1.—The finance committee of the Duma today presented a bill to extend the issue of paper money.

It reported that for 1915 the estimated war expenses are $3,621,000,000, and other expenses $1,423,000,000, making a total of over $5,000,000,000.

London, September 1.—Germany's plan for driving three wedges into the Russian defensive lines is being carried forward, but with less speed than marked the sweep over Poland. Riga is almost isolated and must fall, unless the Russians soon throw heavy forces against von Hindenburg's exposed flank.

Although this attack seems to have been checked for the moment, the Russians have been unable to develop a counter offensive in the region comparable with their activities in east Galicia, where, on the river Stripa, they have turned at bay and inflicted large losses on their opponents.

Petrograd declares that 2,000 prisoners, 30 cannon and 34 machine guns were captured in Galicia within the last day or two.

For five or six days on the western front, a rain of shells from French guns has been poured on the German trenches, and it is not believed here that so much precious ammunition would be used without some sort of concerted effort to occupy the shattered trenches.

Berlin, September 1.—German troops fighting for Grodno are now in front of the outer line of forts of that stronghold, according to today's official statement.

General Funston is understood to have urged that this action be taken as a precaution against a general uprising among the Mexicans living on this side of the border.

The orders were issued to the Sixth cavalry and the Fourth and Nineteenth regiments of infantry. The cavalry troops and the Fourth infantry will proceed to Harlingen, where the recent disturbances started. Two battalions of the Nineteenth infantry

CLAIM SUB SENT DOWN

Washington, Sept. 1.—There is good reason to believe that the German submarine which sank the White Star liner Arabic without warning has herself been lost. Information to this effect, it is understood, reached Washington through a reliable channel. The fact that it is now thirteen days since the Arabic was sent to the bottom and the German admiral apparently has received no word yet from the undersea boat, has strengthened the belief in the reliability of the information that has reached Washington that the German submarine has been destroyed.

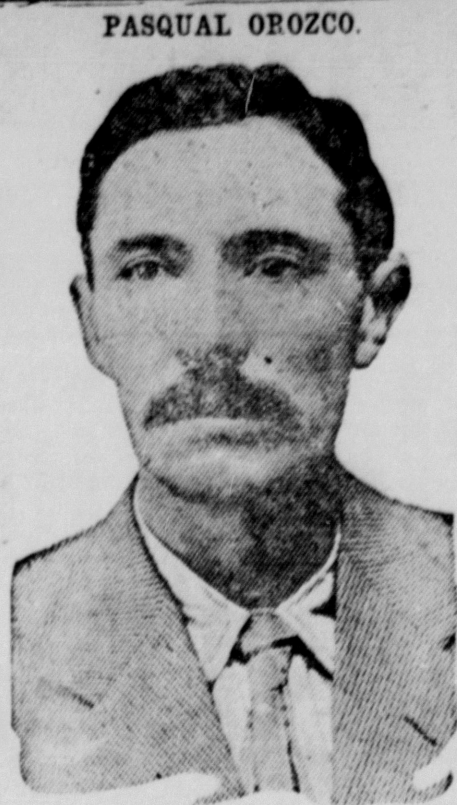

A dispatch from Liverpool says: "The German submarine which sank the White Star liner Arabic on Aug. 19 was herself sunk by a British patrol boat the day following the destruction of the liner."

FATAL AFFRAY

OROZCO KILLED IN RAID

Mexican Leader Was Member of Band of Raiders.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 1.—Pasqual Orozco, famous as a revolutionist and Mexican leader, died at the hands of a posse of Americans with the sting of "horsethief" upon him. Louis Holzman, United States customs inspector of El Paso, positively identified one of the five Mexican raiders killed in this country in the Eagle mountains as Orozco. Holzman was sent to the scene of the killing by Customs Collector Z. L. Cobb, upon receipt of a request to send one who could identify Orozco. When Holzman reached the scene of the last stand of the five Mexicans he positively declared one of the bodies to be that of the former Mexican chief, once dictator of all northern Mexico, and later one of the trusted lieutenants of General Huerta.

Pasqual Orozco was out on bond of $7,500 to appear in the United States court to answer to the charge of conspiracy to violate the neutrality laws. He was arrested Sunday, June 27, at Newman Station, fifteen miles north of El Paso, where he had gone with an auto to meet General Victoriano Huerta and take him from the train. Both Huerta and Orozco were admitted to bond, but Huerta was later re-arrested. Orozco, though kept under surveillance, slipped away from his guards and has been missing since that time.

PRES. WILSON IS INDORSED

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 1.—Kentucky Democrats were the first to indorse President Wilson for the presidency in 1916. This step was taken in the state convention of the Democratic party. The resolution said in part: "We believe that his mastery of the situation (referring to the European war) requires his re-nomination in 1916, and heartily indorse him as the party's most efficient and trusted leader in the coming national election."

CIVIL SERVICE ACT TAKEN INTO COURT

Hundreds of Democrats Holding Office Will Be Dismissed.

Columbus, Sept. 1.—Dismissal of Democratic state employees holding office under noncompetitive civil service examinations followed close upon the taking effect of the new merit service law. The dismissal is expected to continue in the departments controlled by Republicans until a majority of the several hundred offices are filled by persons of the same politics, provided Republicans are able to pass competitive tests.

Refusal of the Franklin county common pleas court to grant an injunction against the state civil service commission's attempting to enforce the new law has the effect of leaving it in full force, to remain so until a higher court declares it valid. The decision was rendered by Judge E. B. Dillon, who held the law valid, without going into the merits of the case.

Politics in Public Service

Developments in state politics came fast and thick during the first two days of the present week.

The new civil service law which became effective Tuesday rendered nearly seventeen hundred state appointees jobless, or rather bared the necks of nearly that many to the descending axe of partisanship which insures this early decapitation.

Many individuals who have been drawing good salaries from the state treasury for "service rendered" have already been notified that they need not report for duty and many others are expecting such notices within a short time.

The partisans of Governor Willis claim that a real genuine merit law regulating the public service is being put into operation, while his opponents claim that a real merit law is being murdered and a partisan measure for the sole purpose of ousting faithful public servants in order that their places may go to others as a reward for political activities is being forced into effect. Suits at law questioning the validity of the new law have been launched and in the meantime the public service is more or less chaotic because of the controversy.

Petitions for referendum elections on the congressional gerrymander law and on the McDermott liquor license law are being circulated and the governor is engaged in an endeavor to ascertain who, if any, among the men he has appointed to place in the public service, are lending aid and comfort to those who are attacking the work of the last general assembly.

In addition to all that, General Burnet, commandant at the Sandusky Soldiers' Home, has been asked by the governor to resign and the State Board of Administration refuses to accept the resignation which the commandant has tendered, because the general has incorporated his reason for tendering the resignation. The governor is threatening to call the board of administration into his office and tell them a few plain truths just as soon as press of business will permit.

Those are only a few of the political mixups which are springing up each day to annoy those interested directly or indirectly in Ohio politics and that's every good citizen.

It is safe to say that never has the state been in a more disturbed condition, politically, than it is right now.

One difficulty is not cleared away until a half dozen others more formidable and more disturbing in their complexity and effect arise.

As to the particular politics primarily responsible for all the rows now on and threatened there is, of course, a difference of opinion, but anyone who believed that the public service of the state was, even to an appreciable extent, free from politics or entertained any hopes that it soon would be, must, in the face of existing conditions, acknowledge that he was all wrong.

Right now there is more politics in the public service of the state than ever before. The wild scramble for place by those who want to get in and the bull dog tenacity exhibited by those who would hold on in spite of all efforts to dislodge them is proof that love of place and power for the material rewards they bring, not patriotism, still controls the great majority of those who seek to become or to remain public servants.

The present unpleasant spectacle in Ohio politics which people are compelled to read about and hear about every day is conclusive proof that the public service of Ohio is today deeper in politics than ever before and that the spoils system if not stronger, is more in evidence than it has been for a decade past.

Monday's Shivering Blast

The light frost of Tuesday morning reported from various localities throughout Ohio and several others of the corn belt states, was not, according to best advices, a "killing frost."

This latest prank of the most peculiar August weather within the memory of the present generation was the crowning event of a remarkable summer.

A heavy frost at this time of the year, especially in view of the fact that the corn crop is yet green and tender, would result in enormous damage. The anxiety of the farmers and business men on account of the long drawn out rainy season and the condition of the one big and really, now, most important crop remaining unharvested, was intensified by the chill winds which blew from the north and northeast all during Monday.

All of the old fashioned weather prophets anticipated the danger and, as is usually the case, were free in disseminating remarks and observations not at all conducive to confidence.

The warm sun of Tuesday, which shown from a cloudless sky, soon dispelled the fear occasioned by the gloomy forebodings regarding the distress sure to follow in the wake of the chill winds and leaden skies of Monday.

The danger, and it was a danger, has passed by and the farmers are one day nearer the harvest time and the most cheering feature of the weather conditions following the chill of Monday night was the fact that no rain came to retard the drying process which has already commenced in the corn fields.

Each day of dry weather now means that the farmers are that much nearer the time when his corn crop will be transformed into money in the bank.

Poetry For Today

THE SONG OF THE ZEPPELIN.

By Skyeey ways, o'er mountain height
The dim earth slumbering far below;
I hold my course by compass right
O'er neutral lands, o'er friend or foe!
The glittering constellations burn
Unnumbered in their stellar fires;
Space silent spreads where'er I turn,
And far below are mountain spires!

Onward I speed 'neath moon or star;
Chill grows the night o'er Bulgar plain;
The skies above all peaceful are
Where Night and Silence hold their reign!
No sentry's warning challenge comes
To halt me in my onward flight;
Like martial music, beat of drums,
My engine heart throbs all the night.

No messenger of love am I,
But like Jove's Eagle swift I go;
I bear through depths of silent sky
The thunderbolts of war and woe.
My Compass points to Dardanelles,
Where mighty hosts opposing stand;
My dragon teeth of shot and shells
I soon will strew upon their strand!

A monarch I of night and air
I scorn the earth below me flung;
The things I do, the deeds I dare
Not Homer's self e'er dreamed or sung!
And Ilion's topmost tower vast
To me an idle boast but seems;
The present clime teh mighty past,
For I have scaled the heights of dreams!

Lo! in the East the morning star
Now glows o'er lofty Ida's height;
The dawn slow climbs the Orient bar—
'Tis time I fold my wings of night!
For far below, Sophia's dome
Stands guard above the Golden Horn;
Its Star and Crescent signal "Home"
My freight of death I land at morn!

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Baby's Earache and Pain.

Whenever baby cries look at his face and his hands. The face invariably tells if the cry is caused by pain, and the little hands frequently point to the site of the pain. If he draws up his legs he has colic or abdominal pain. If he has earache there is no safer treatment than heat applied outside of the ear—hot flannels or a hot water bag. If this does not quiet the pain then syringe out the ear with water as hot as the finger can be dipped in. Use a soft all rubber syringe and insert it gently into the opening into the ear. Never use oil or anything else unless prescribed by the doctor. If a second attack of earache occurs send for a physician. If earaches are allowed to continue permanent deafness may be the result.

The pain in the abdomen is the commonest form of pain, and it can be most quickly relieved by giving an enema of four or five ounces of warm water. The pain is caused by gas, and as soon as this is expelled the baby will fall asleep. Warmth should be applied to the feet and also to the abdomen.

Great Men Born in Wartime.

It is pointed out that during the first years of the last century, from 1800 or 1810 to 1815, when all Europe was suffering from the Napoleonic wars, she gave birth to almost every great man who was to guide her better destinies for 100 years to come. In that terrible period of travail Britain gave birth to Disraeli, Gladstone, Cobden, Bright, Browning, Tennyson, Shaftesbury and many others. Italy had Cavour, Mazzini, Garibaldi and Victor Emmanuel, the four men who secured the liberty and unity of the Italian kingdom. America gave us Wendell Phillips, William Lloyd Garrison, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Henry Ward Beecher and, most glorious of all, Abraham Lincoln.—British Weekly.

DID THE OLD MAN GOOD.

Geo. W. Clough, of Prentiss, Miss., is seventy-seven years old and had trouble with his kidneys for many years. He writes that Foley Kidney Pills did him much good. He used many remedies, but this is the only one that ever helped him. No man, young or old, can afford to neglect symptoms of kidney trouble. Blackmer & Tanquary. advt.

COUNTY BOARD HOLDS IMPORTANT MEETING

Reject Claim for Expenses of County Institute Amounting to
$235—Anders Succeeds Self
as County Examiner—Wayne
Drops District Supervision—
Buck Run Would Attach to Greenfield.

The County Board of Education did things at a meeting held Tuesday, at which all members were present except W. W. Wilson.

The bill presented by Supt. Wm. McClain for the expenses of the County Teachers' Institute and amounting to $235.25, was rejected, the Board holding that no institute was held. The facts are that a resolution passed providing for an institute was later repealed by the Board, and those interested in the holding of an institute proceeded with the same, ignoring the cancellation of the provisions by the Board, claiming legal authority. The vote to reject the bill was unanimous. C. L. Anders was appointed county school examiner for a period of two years, succeeding himself.

A petition from Wayne township, covering eleven schools, was presented to the County Board, asking to be relieved of district superintendency and the cost thereof which was granted. Wayne township is included in District No. 3, of which Mr. F. M. Allen is superintendent.

A petition was also filed by patrons of Buck Run School District, in Perry township, and signed by considerably more than the required number of persons, asking that the district be taken from District No. 3, in Fayette county, and attached to the Greenfield village School District, which comprises Greenfield and the township surrounding in Highland county. This is an old question and has been attempted heretofore. Owing to the fact that a full board was not present this matter was carried over until later. It is said that the members present favor the change and it is predicted that in all probability favorable action will result.

The County Board adjourned to meet at the call of President Wilson Morris.

ALLEN CONFERS WITH DONAHEY

Mr. Chas. Allen, of this city, one of the Ohio Commissioners at the San Francisco exposition, spent Tuesday at Columbus in conference with State Auditor Donahey. Mr. Allen has charge of securing and arranging for all live stock exhibits at the big exposition.

Owing to the fact that transportation charges on live stock are so heavy—about $1,000 a car by express, four days in transit or about $500 per car by freight, a ten day's journey—Ohio exhibitors, especially the foremost breeders of live stock, have been hard to interest and it was with a view to making some arrangements by which the state would pay transportation charges in the first instance.

The state appropriated about $15,000 to pay transportation cost on Ohio live stock exhibits at the fair. The commission has estimated that about $6,000 will be required to pay the transportation charges on horses and a like amount for cattle, while $3,000 each for the cost of transporting the exhibits of sheep and hogs has been the estimate of the commission.

The difficulty, however, has come about by reason of the fact that the exhibitors are compelled to pay the charges and look to the state for reimbursement.

Mr. Allen states that his interview with the state auditor was very satisfactory and leads him to believe that an arrangement can now be made which will be of great benefit to prospective Ohio exhibitors.

The bulk of the Ohio live stock exhibits were to go forward for the fall show and Mr. Allen's task has been, in view of the restrictions regarding the payment of transportation charges, a particularly difficult one.

APPRAISERS BEGIN TAKING INVENTORY OF CURRAN ESTATE

The appraisers appointed by the Probate Court, A. M. Anderson, J. A. Edge and George D. Hays, accompanied by the administrator, Mr. S. F. Snider, Wednesday morning commenced the work of appraising the personal property of the estate of Melissa Curran, deceased.

The greater portion of the chattel property is located in Green township. It is likely that the appraisal cannot be concluded in one day.

DUCKWALL OUT ON $300 BOND

James Duckwall, who was placed under arrest Sunday night while unloading 119 pint bottles of whiskey at his barn in the Henkle addition, was released by Mayor Coffey on bond of $300. The trial of the case has been set for Friday morning.

John Kennedy, who is wanted by the police for connection with the same alleged offense, has not been located by the police.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPEN NEXT MONDAY

The Public Schools of the city open for the fall term on Monday morning, September the sixth.

At East End, where the school building is being enlarged to accommodate the pupils, half day sessions will be held until the addition is finished.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors, who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our dear father, for the beautiful flowers and to the quartet and Dr. Stitt, Mr. Murry and Rev. West. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Shopshear.

WILL SELECT SCHOOL SITE

On the commission to choose a site in eastern Ohio for an additional state normal school, Governor Willis yesterday named George Bowers, Circleville; William McClain, Washington C. H.; George Stauffer, Ottawa; ex-Representative George C. Deitrich, Piqua; O. J. Dodge, Delta.

The governor appointed T. J. Davis, vice president of the First National Bank of Cincinnati, as trustee of the Ohio University at Athens.

KATZ, YOUR CLOTHIER
THE BIG CORNER

BIG GUNS OF A CENTURY AGO

The Turks Used Cannon That Fired Great Granite Boulders.

It would scarcely appear feasible that a shot weighing 800 pounds could have been employed a century ago, yet the Turks, who used the largest cannon in Europe, actually used guns of such caliber at that time.

When Sir J. Duckworth passed the Dardanelles to attack Constantinople in 1807 his fleet was dreadfully shattered by the immense shot thrown from the batteries. The Royal George, of 110 guns, was nearly sunk by only one shot, while another cut the mainmast of the Windsor Castle almost in two, a single shot knocked two ports of the Thunderer into one; the Re-pulse (seventy-four guns) had her wheel shot away and twenty-four men killed and wounded by a shot, the ship being saved only by the most wonderful exertions.

The heaviest shot which struck the British ships was of granite, weighing 800 pounds, and was twenty-six inches in diameter. One such shot, to the astonishment of the tars, stove in the whole starboard bow of the Active, and, having crushed this immense mass of timber, the shot rolled ponderously aft, the crew standing aghast at this singular spectacle.

One of these guns was cast in brass. It was composed of two parts, its breach resting against massive stone-work, and the difficulty of charging such a monster would not allow of its being fired more than once.—Dundee Advertiser.

CRABS IN FULL DRESS.

Some Species Are Fond of Finery and Clothe Themselves Carefully.

Many of the crab species of shellfish clothe themselves. Some species dress elaborately by taking small pieces of different colored weeds and sticking them on the shell, so as to look like a stone covered with weed. They spend hours, with the utmost perseverance, in making these pieces adhere, by trying the same piece over and over again till they succeed. They have a fine sense of symmetry and always put a red piece on one limb to match the red piece they have put on the other, and a green piece to match a green piece, though how they know red from green in the dark pools where they live is hard to say, unless it is by taste or smell. When once their dress is completed it improves the older it becomes, as the weed actually grows on them.

Another species, with like habits and a most decided love for finery, was described at a meeting of the Linnaean society, as clothing themselves with bits of bright colored seaweed, sponges, and so forth. If the crab be despoiled of its garments it at once proceeds to clothe itself again with care and deliberation, manifested not only in the selection of its articles of apparel, but in the proper shaping of them by means of its pincers.—London Spectator.

The Attorney in England.

The use of the word attorney denotes a belated mind. Since Nov. 1, 1875, attorneys have ceased to exist, their title merged by law into that of solicitor of the supreme court of judicature, says a writer in the London Mail. The name had long been used as a term of abuse. Johnson observed of an acquaintance that "he did not care to speak ill of any man behind his back, but he believed the gentleman was an attorney."

Archbishop Trench in 1859 noted that the word attorney was going out of favor and that the lower branch of the legal profession preferred to be called solicitors. So when the judicature act of 1873 was before parliament a clause was inserted abolishing the obnoxious title. But with our delightful conservatism we still honor the "attorney general."

Knocking on Wood.

"Knock on wood" is one of the most antique expressions in use today instead of being modern slang, according to Professor William F. Bade. The expression dates from a custom in vogue 5,000 years ago, when wood was regarded as the antipathy of evil genies. Metals were regarded as tabooed by certain spirits, and if a man handled these metals he immediately touched wood to appease the spirits. Ancient records show that King Solomon's temple was built with wooden tools and implements made of precious metals, for iron was tabooed and would have polluted the temple.—Exchange.

Overworked Runabout.

A writer for a farm magazine says an ordinary runabout can be made to run a circular saw, pump water, haul freight, drive dairy machinery, fill the silo, shred the fodder and crush grain feed. Possibly, but it would have little time in which to run about.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Charge Explained.

Judge—What's your charge against the prisoner? Complainant—Burglary. He stole $5 from me at the station. Judge—But for burglary there must be a breaking. Complainant—Well, your honor, when he took the five he broke me.—Boston Transcript.

A Female Veteran.

He—Isn't that General X. and his daughter over there? He—Yes. They say that she has been through more engagements than her old father.—Boston Transcript.

A cheerful and glad spirit attains to perfection much more readily than a melancholy spirit.—S. Philip Neri.

In Social Circles

The August Kensington of the W. R. C. was held at the home of Mrs. Paul Hildebrandt, on E. Temple street, Tuesday afternoon, and proved one of the most delightful of their numerous affairs.

Fall flowers of many hues were profusely arranged throughout the rooms and together with the cordial hospitality of the hostess and assisting hostess were much enjoyed by the members and invited guests.

The afternoon's business program was interspersed with musical numbers on the pianola, with tempting refreshments served at its close.

Assisting Mrs. Hildebrandt as hostess were Mesdames Wm. Davenport, George Hays, J. A. Melvin, John Morris, George Pensyl, Laura Ott, Susan Stoddard, Frances Bales.

The members of the Church of Christ together with a number of their friends gave Dr. Teeters and his family a very delightful surprise Monday evening at the church. Baskets filled with good things to eat were brought and supper was served in the basement.

After supper a number of talks were made by members of the church and others expressing their appreciation of the work of Dr. Teeters and his family in the congregation and of their influence in the community. They have many friends in New Holland. Dr. Teeters is a man who has won the highest respect and esteem of his fellowmen, and our town loses one of its best citizens in his going from us, and the church one of its most faithful workers.—New Holland Leader.

Washington friends of Dr. Teeters and his family will be interested in learning of the regret felt in New Holland over the approaching departure of the Teeters family for their new home in Bowersville. Mrs. Teeters is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flee of this city.

Mrs. Ola Boyer, of N. North street entertained at a delightful six o'clock dinner Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moots and son Harold, Mrs. Ray Glaize of Charleston, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tysor and daughter Miss Mary left Wednesday for their country place at Gallatin, Tenn.

Mrs. S. E. Simmons is spending the week in Columbus and Cincinnati, attending the fall millinery openings.

Miss Levona Cheek was able to leave the Fayette Hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis three weeks ago, and go to her home on S. Hinde street.

Mr. Coke McArthur is in Columbus a couple of days attending the state fair.

Mrs. Frank Bohn came over from Chillicothe Tuesday afternoon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Burke.

Mrs. Walter Dunlap, of Greenfield, spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. H. B. Maynard.

Mrs. Will Hay leaves Thursday for Kansas City, Mo., where she will remain for a visit of some weeks with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Jacob Stultz of Sabina, is a shopping visitor here today.

Dr. Clayton Lanum is spending the day in Columbus.

Mrs. Hallie Voss and Miss Ruth Campbell of Cooks, are among delegates at the W. C. T. U. convention.

Miss Roxie Stinson returned Tuesday night from a ten days' stay at Cedar Point.

Mr. A. R. Williams, of Portsmouth has accepted a position in Christopher's drug store.

Messrs W. R. Collins and Lewis Moore are among state fair visitors.

Mrs. Claude L. Clemmens has been quite ill at her home on Paint street this week, her condition showing improvement today.

Mr. Homer Brown and wife have returned to Middletown, where Mr. Brown holds a lucrative position, after a visit with his father, Mr. Albert Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bonham, daughter, Mrs. Ralph C. Browne, of Cincinnati, and Sam Wolf motored to Columbus to attend the fair Wednesday.

Mr. John DeWitt is attending the state fair today.

Mr. William Hardway is spending the week in Columbus to attend the fair.

Mrs. Joseph H. Harper is spending a few days with Mr. Harper in Columbus, Miss Helen Harper accompanying her to Columbus and going on to Woodstock for a visit with school friends.

Wm. McClain, Superintendent.

Misses Clara and Hazel Patterson are visiting in Columbus this week.

Miss Pauline Dale left Wednesday morning for a visit with friends in Cincinnati.

Mr. F. P. Rais, district superintendent of the Western and Southern Insurance Co., of Chillicothe, visited the local office in this city Tuesday.

Mr. Elza Long was taken to the Fayette Hospital with a grave case of appendicitis Tuesday and operated upon. It is thought that he is doing as well as possible today.

Mrs. Abbie Hare Morrison, of St. Augustine, Fla., is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swartz, for a couple of months.

Mr. Louis Kauffman has moved his family from the Hammer property on Market street to the Dale property on Temple. Mr. Levi Reeder has rented the Hammer property, his family moving from Leesburg avenue next week.

Miss Mary Collins has returned from San Francisco, Cal., where she represented the Ohio University Chapter of the Alpha Xi Delta Fraternity at the national convention. Miss Collins also attended both of the California expositions, took the campers' trip through Yellow Stone Park and toured extensively through the west.

Dr. Florence Rankin and Mrs. Armethia Luellen have returned from an extensive western trip. Since leaving the party with which they made the trip out and toured Yellow Stone National Park, they visited in Los Angeles, in Portland, Oregon where Dr. Rankin attended the national Osteopathic convention, Seattle, Wash., and in Wanboy, S. Da. At the latter place they were the guests at the home of Mrs. Lieueln's brother, Hon. C. C. Bush, where Mr. and Mrs. Frank Osborn, of Jeffersonville, are now visiting.

John Crayton Griffis returned Tuesday night from a visit in Union City, Ind.

Relatives have received word that Hon. H. L. Hadley is still confined to his bed from the accident which he suffered at the home of his cousin at Whiteface, N. H. Although no bones are broken the injuries to the hip are sufficient to cause him weeks of inactivity and much suffering. Mr. Hadley's many Washington friends are sincerely hoping for his complete recovery.

Mrs. Rachel Darlington, sons, Messrs Ed and George Darlington, daughter, Mrs. Vert Briggs, left Wednesday morning for Winchester to attend the Centennial celebration and Home Coming Thursday morning. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rothrock, Mr. J. L. Rothrock and Mr. P. E. Rothrock, go to Winchester for the Home Coming. Thursday will be the big day, with a spectacular presentation of the famous Morgan's Raid, which robbed every store in Winchester except one, and the pursuit of Gen. Hobson, the leading feature of the entertainment planned.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

CLARK—The remains of Mr. Jesse Clark, who died in Dayton, will be brought to this city Thursday morning on the 9:44 C. H. & D. train and be taken immediately to the Washington cemetery for burial.

THE W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

As a forerunner to the 30th W. C. T. U. County Convention, holding session at the First Baptist church today a lecture delivered Tuesday night at the First Baptist church by Mrs. Stella Snodgrass, state lecturer, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. was of absorbing interest.

After the opening exercises the audience enjoyed a beautiful piano solo by Miss Golda Ryan.

Mrs. Snodgrass, from her personal experience in the temperance work, made an address upon the "Finger Points upon the Nation," developing her subject with force and originality.

She stated that there are more insane, epileptic and feeble minded than fifty years ago. "What is to be done? We are paying out enormous sums to take care of them.

"We have over five millions of syphilitics, seventy-five out of every hundred made blind by this disease. "Fathers as well as mothers should teach their sons.

"The more we shirk our responsibility the less God will do for us."

Morning Session.

At 9.30 o'clock Wednesday morning the members met in executive session. Mrs. Alice Taggart presiding. After discussion it was decided that the union purchase a dozen copies of the Testament for the children at the county home. It was also arranged, in view of the fact that the children of the Home do not have sufficient good literature, that the union secure books from the library for their use, the county executive officers to be responsible for the return to the state library of the books in fair condition.

The meeting proper was called to order at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Hallie King led devotional exercises and in several short prayers the desire was voiced that Fayette county secure the service of some good brave man to lead in the temperance cause.

Members responded to roll call with brief quotations, and Mrs. Snodgrass of Xenia, who lectures Wednesday afternoon and night, was introduced.

Mrs. Icy Allen read an interesting report of the work of the previous year wherein it was shown that the county union now has a membership of 340; that 30,359 pages of literature had been distributed besides numerous post cards, posters, penants, etc.

Mrs. Alice Adams gave a report on the evangelistic department after which election of officers for the ensuing year was held. The election resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. Alice Taggart; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Icy Allen; Treasurer, Mrs. Carrie B. Willis; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Laura C. Pine.

Meeting adjourned for the noon recess, to reconvene at 1:30.

CULBERSON WILL

The last will and testament of the late Dora A. Culbertson was filed for probate Wednesday. The instrument is very brief and devises all real and personal property of the decedent to her husband, Harvey Culbertson, Jr. The principal part of the estate consists of two properties in this city, valued at about $5000.

Berlin Believes Hundreds of Thousands Instead of Thousands of Czar's Men Will Be Made Prisoners. Fall of Riga, Grodno and Vilna Anticipated—Operations on the Other Fronts.

London, Sept. 1.—A dispatch received at Berlin from the eastern front says:

"The victorious German armies are cutting the fleeing Russian forces into three sections, with the hope of surrounding smaller units and possibly capturing hundreds of thousands instead of thousands of men. The Russians are still masters of the retreat, says the dispatch, though they are abandoning everything to save their men. It is too early to say whether the next chief movement will be against Petrograd or Odessa. The first important point is to surround and capture a large section of the fleeing army, which is now being driven east into the swamps. After the capture of eight fortresses within three weeks, the fall of Riga, Vilna and Grodno in a short time will not surprise the military observers."

The Russian forces in Galicia, which were rapidly driven back from the Zlota Lipa river to the Stripa, have gathered new strength and are holding the Austrians by a series of furious counter attacks.

North of the Stripa line, however, the Austro-German advance against Lutzk and Dubno seems to be progressing with menacing speed. The Austrian official statement says that Switichy, Horochow and Radziechow have been reached and that north and northeast of Lutzk many prisoners and rich booty fell into the hands of the Teutonic allies.

No Halt in Onward Rush.

East of Brest-Litovsk there has been no hindrance to the onward rush of the Germans. Prushany, which is forty-five miles northeast of Brest-Litovsk, has been occupied, and from the wording of the German statement it would appear that the dense forest district in that region has been pretty clearly swept of Russians.

West and south of Grodno, the one remaining fortress of importance on the original Kovno-Bitovsk line, the Germans have drawn up on arc which is but twelve miles from the heart of the city and within easy range of the outer fortifications. But what is perhaps of more importance is the statement from German headquarters that south of the Niemen the German troops are pressing quickly towards the Grodno to Vilna railroad, having taken 2,600 prisoners. The severance of this railroad will leave the investing garrison at Grodno but one railroad of retreat, that which runs west from the city to Minsk.

In the western theater of war, the French continue artillery attacks on the German line and concentration points without as yet any evidence of a general offensive.

The Italians are more active and report the capture of another strong Austrian position southeast of Trent, and some of the Austrian trenches on the Carso, on the road to Trieste.

KILLS SELF ON STREET

Youngstown, O., Sept. 1.—John Davidt, fifty-nine, shot himself through the head with a revolver and fell dead in the street here while being pursued by four policemen. Davidt was being sought for an attack on his eighteen-year-old son, whom he would have shot had not his revolver failed to go off when he pulled the trigger twice as he held the muzzle of the weapon against the lad's temple.

MUST SEEK NEW MARKET

New York, Sept. 1.—A break in the value of the English pound sterling to $4.57½ not only established a new low record, but brought the problem of foreign exchange to a serious point. It was a break of 3½ cents, and was 2½ cents below the mark set weeks ago by bankers and financiers generally as the so called "irreducible minimum" which, when reached, would cause British buyers to seek other markets in which to place their orders for those imports obtainable elsewhere than in this country.

No such violent break had ever before been recorded in the foreign exchange markets here. The big break in the value of the pound sterling means that English buyers, in addition to the top market prices they are already paying for American products, must pay a premium of 29 cents on every pound's worth of purchases, which is more than 5 per cent.

ITALIANS TAKE MORE TRENCHES

Rome, Sept. 1.—More trenches have been taken from the Austrians in the Carso region as well as in the Alpine district, where Trento is the objective.

The business men's military training camp is a novelty to take note of. The training lasts a month. It is said that in that time novices will surely fit themselves to be volunteer officers. It takes four years at West Point to make an officer. But experience shows that a few weeks' actual campaigning produces very fair officers out of raw material. It is often said by soldiers that the best officers come up from the ranks. Given natural talent for command, an intelligent man can master the primary details of military service in a few weeks. However, this is a democracy, and the people will not take kindly to a military system which is undemocratic. Military service should be shared by all classes, but it would be unfair to instill in the army of volunteers the idea that there was a preferred class for commissions, made up of those who could afford the time and expense of training in time of peace.

Before the big war ends no doubt some of the scrapping nations will be puzzled as to "time to let go" and "time to hang on."

BODIES LOCATED IN SUBMARINE WRECK

Crew Knew That Submarine F-4
Had Serious Defects.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The bodies of several members of the crew of the United States submarine F-4, which sank in Honolulu harbor March 25, have been located in the wreckage, according to a dispatch received at the navy department from Rear Admiral Bousa, in charge of the board of naval officers examining the hulk of the submarine.

That the twenty-two officers and men comprising the crew of the F-4, and making up the death total of the accident, started on their last cruise fully aware that their vessel might never make port again, was plainly indicated in a report of the naval board which made the preliminary investigation of the accident. Not only were the members of the crew entirely alive to serious defects in the batteries of the submarine, but according to the report it is a widely known fact in the service that all three of the remaining boats of the F class possess the same defect to an equal or less extent.

In addition to having faulty batteries, the report shows that the F-4's propelling engines possessed inherent faults and were difficult to keep in repair, and that the ability of the officers and crew to regulate the depth to which the submarine could sink depended more on the skill of those in charge than on the accuracy of the mechanical appliances.

FIRST AIR BALLOONS.

Dr. Johnson's Description of the Way They Were Inflated.

"The chemical philosophers have discovered a body (which I have forgotten, but will inquire) which dissolved by an acid emits a vapor lighter than the atmospheric air. This vapor is caught, among other means, by tying a bladder compressed upon the bottle in which the dissolution is performed."

"The vapor, rising, swells the bladder and fills it. The bladder is then tied and removed and another applied till as much of this light air is collected as is wanted. Then a large spherical case is made, and very large it must be, of the lightest matter that can be found, secured by some method like that of oiling silk against all passage of air."

"Into this are emptied all the bladders of light air, and if there is light air enough it mounts into the clouds upon the same principle as a bottle filled with water will sink in water, but a bottle filled with ether will float. It rises till it comes to air of equal tenacity with its own. If wind or water does not spoil it on the way. Such, madam, is an air balloon."—From Dr. Johnson's Letter, Sept. 22, 1783, to Mrs. Thrale.

The Thriftiest Parson.

A supreme example of thrift was the Rev. Robert Walker—the "Wonderful Walker." For the greater part of his life Walker was curate of Leather-waithe, Cumberland, commencing there with a stipend of £5 per annum. His wife brought him a fortune of £40, and on the interest of this and his £5 annually Walker reared a family of eight. When after twenty years his stipend was raised to £17 10s. a year he continued to save. And not only did the family "live well, though plainly," but, as he declared with justifiable pride, his children never lacked any of the necessities of life and were given an education to fit them for any rank of society, the boys, indeed, going to one of the universities.—London Standard.

CARLYLE'S TEMPER.

It Was the Very Reverse of Bad, Said His Old Maidservant.

Carlyle bad tempered? Not at all, if we are to place any belief in the testimony of the maid behind the broom. One of Carlyle's servants, Jessie, who on marrying became Mrs. Broadfoot, has left a very favorable impression of her old master, says the London Standard.

"I could have lived with him all my days," she says, "and it always makes me angry when I read, as I sometimes do, that he was bad tempered. He was the very reverse, in my opinion. I never would have left him when I did if I had not been going to get married. I took great pride in attending on him and studying all his wants and wishes."

"It was one of my duties to rush out and move on all street organs and things of that kind. Many a time in the morning before he rose I used to fill his pipe, the short clay he used in his bedroom, for him and strike the match to light it. I always cut up his tobacco (he bought it in flat cakes) and kept his tin box regularly supplied. He was always so grateful for these little services."

So much for popular belief and the dictum of the democratic servant biographer.

National Defense Idea Becoming a Political Issue.

BIG AND LITTLE NAVY MEN AT IT

Just How Many Battleships and Submarines and How Large an Army Increase the President Will Recommend Are Still Open Questions. Missouri Incident That Shows Trend of Developments.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Opinion is rapidly developing here that the national defense issue is becoming more and more a political question, and that inasmuch as this is true, the difficulties of the president are multiplying.

Senator Kern's visit to the White House and the interview he gave out in sympathy with the recent utterances of Representative Kitchin, the next majority leader of the house, emphasized the difficulties which the president faces from a large wing of his own party members in congress. Colonel Roosevelt's utterances and the propaganda of the national defense organizations, it was said, mark the other extreme from the administration's present viewpoint. The effect of the two elements in the political situation regarding national defense is to leave the administration between two fires.

SHUT OUT IN THREE

Boston, Sept. 1.—By winning both ends of a double-header the Braves made it three shutouts in a row from the Reds. Manager Stallings sent Neff to the mound in the opener. He allowed but four safe blows. In the second game Tom Hughes did the work, allowing three hits and one pass. Score:

THE LINCOLN MEMORIAL.

A Curious and Unique Lighting Scheme to Be One of Its Features.

The Lincoln memorial, now under construction in Washington, will be the costliest monument ever erected to the memory of one man. Its cost will be $2,000,000. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Transcript, describing the plans of the architect, says:

The memorial will stand on a broad terrace forty feet above grade and with a radius of 1,000 feet. It will be of pure Colorado marble. The colonnade, on all the four sides, 188 feet long and 118 feet wide, will contain thirty-eight columns forty-four feet high and seven feet five inches in diameter at the base. The great central hall will be sixty feet wide and high and seventy feet long. In the center will stand a heroic statue of Lincoln. The lighting scheme is unique. The only light admitted to the chamber is to come through marble panels, one inch in thickness, set in the ceiling.

Each panel is 2 by 4 feet, and each series of three panels will be divided by bronze beams four feet deep, worked in oak and laurel leaf designs. The rays from lamps or sun will fall softly upon the head of the martyred president, as like as human genius can conceive it to the "light that never was on sea or land."

On the north wall, set in an immense marble tablet with bronze letters, will be Lincoln's second inaugural address. From the south wall in the same design will stand forth the immortal phrases of the Gettysburg speech. Before each tablet will be set four pillars, so placed as to give the effect of dividing the hall into separate chambers and making that in which the statue stands an inner shrine.

The plans show a lagoon extending in front of the memorial 2,000 feet toward the Washington monument. The work will probably be completed in the spring of 1918.

Turkey's Weak Sultan.

Mehmed V., sultan of Turkey, was imprisoned for practically his entire life by his brother, the former Sultan Abdul Hamid, until the Young Turks overturned Abdul Hamid and brought Mehmed out of his seclusion to be placed on the throne. He was then sixty-five years old. Although credited with being a man of good intentions, the sultan has been considered a puppet in the hands of Enver Pasha and the inner circle of the committee of union and progress. His seclusion for so many years is said to have ruined his initiative and executive ability.

The Paper We Make.

The United States is the greatest paper-producing country in the world by a very wide margin. In 1909 the total value of the products of the American paper mills was nearly $270,000,000, and if the rate of increase recorded for a half dozen years previous to 1909 has held good since the present annual production is well over $300,000,000. That total is nearly three times the value of the product of the next great producing country—Germany.

After the War.

A well known American writer thinks that the signing of peace will lead to an emigration movement that will amaze the world. After the Franco-German war in 1870, 200,000 Germans settled in three of the American states—Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa, which are now German-American.—Indianapolis News.

NORWAY IS SORE TRIED BY BRITISH

Christiania, Norway, September 1. — (Correspondence of the Associated Press) — Norwegian ship owners complain bitterly against the practice of English warships in forcing Norwegian vessels bound for Norway to put back to a British port. In many cases these Norwegian ships have been outside of the war zone, and, on their being forced to return to British ports they have been the victims of German submarines. Had the vessels been left alone by the British ships they would have reached their home port safely.

Protests from Norway to England have been met by the answer that the British government will hold itself responsible for Norwegian shipping that is treated in this manner, but the Norwegian owners continue to see their ships destroyed.

The question has become especially acute since the Norwegian-American line steamer Trondhjemsfjord was torpedoed by a German submarine July 31. An English cruiser had stopped the steamer, put a prize crew on board and directed the vessel's course to Kirkwall, when the torpedoing occurred. The Norwegian press complaining against the British Admiralty assert that the steamer was loaded in New York under the supervision of three inspectors from the British consulate who sealed the ship's hatches, and among the ship's papers was an affidavit from the consulate to the effect that the ship had no other cargo than what the papers showed. Aside from this, the Norwegian government had guaranteed that possible contraband would not be reshipped from Norway to any of the belligerent countries. Notwithstanding this the ship was seized, prize flag hoisted and the unlawful prize was directed toward Kirkwall. The chief of the German submarine torpedoed the steamer because it was brought from England last December and was therefore, according to instructions considered to be an English ship.

The loss of the Trondhjemsfjord amounts to several million dollars, only partly covered by insurance. There was no contraband on board according to German rules. The cargo consisted of 60,000 bushels of grain, pork and tobacco.

The loss of Norwegian ships since the war broke out a year ago amounts to about $10,000,000, of which only four million was covered by insurance—the rest falls on the ship owners. The majority of the ships have been torpedoed by German submarines, several without warning.

MANUAL BLOCK SYSTEM EXAMS

The recent disastrous wreck at Orient with its terrible toll in human life, is the reason assigned for the proposed installation of the block system on the Midland division of the B. & O. railroad.

In conformity to the plan as announced, Mr. G. W. Plumly, of Chillicothe, is conducting examinations of applicants for manual block service, visiting points along the line for this purpose. On Wednesday Mr. Plumly examined three applicants in this city.

DEADLY SUBMARINES.

Menace of the Machines That Strike the Enemy in the Dark.

Submarines have many elements which make them a dangerous menace, but there are also many weaknesses which partially offset their offensive qualities. Traveling under water, they are invisible from ships except as the periscope is shot above the surface to reconnoiter. But they are quite easily seen from air craft, even when maneuvering at a great depth. They are unattackable by gunfire, except when they come to the surface, when their frail structure makes them particularly liable to sudden destruction. As they cannot be seen, they cannot be attacked by torpedoes from the ships they are after, but if the periscope comes up and the submarine is thus located she is liable to gunfire and torpedo attack and to being rammed or run down.

The limited view from the periscope, due to its restricted elevation above the water surface, makes it almost hopeless to attempt an attack in darkness. But the little vessel can travel long distances at night and be ready at break of dawn to spread destruction broadcast. The submarine can easily avoid a blockading fleet by passing beneath it. As its motions cannot be followed with the eye, the submarine possesses to an unusual degree the essential elements for delivering a surprise attack.

One of the chief means of dodging submarines is to keep continually on the move, changing direction frequently and keeping a sharp lookout for the spying periscope. — Leslie's.

A Gilbert Story.
Sir W. S. Gilbert, who was one of the few playwrights who defied the stage censor, was noted for his caustic criticisms on anything which did not meet with his approval.

While dining out once some one happened to ask him his opinion of Burne Jones' women. "Too long in the neck," remarked the author of "The Mikado." "When I look at one of them I always feel that she ought to have a joint in it and wear a stocking." — London Tit-Bits.

The Poppy.
The poppy throughout the east is an emblem of death. In many parts of India this flower is planted upon graves and in cemeteries. Whether or not the idea was suggested by the poisonous character of the juice is uncertain. It is believed that the poppy was known as a funeral plant to the ancient Egyptians, for upon the tombs opened by Belzoni there appeared representations of plants which were evidently intended for poppies. — Pittsburgh Press.

STARTING A BRIDGE.

The Boy Who Was a Good Kiteflier Came In Handy.

Some years ago there died in Nebraska a man named Walsh, who as a boy started a suspension bridge. When Walsh was about ten years old the first steps for the construction of the suspension bridge at Niagara were taken. The first thing necessary was the stretching of a single wire across the chasm. The engineer in charge had thought of a way to get it across.

"What boy is the best kiteflier in town?" he asked.

The Walsh boy was named as the best kiteflier in the town of Niagara Falls, and the engineer accordingly asked that he be brought to him. He was made to understand that he must fly his kite across the Niagara river. He flew it across and allowed it to come down on the other side. Men were there to seize it. Then the engineer attached a wire to the string on his side, and the men on the other side detached the kite and by means of the string drew the wire across. By this, in turn, a cable was drawn across, and the bridge was well begun.—Harper's.

Fascinated.

The woman sitting opposite me in my hotel dining room spoke French to the waitress daintily, but there was an untidiness about her letter "r" that betokened English, and a wateriness about her eye that I thought betokened liquor. She was aged and—for all the world—she was "Sairey Gamp." She ate her tripe dauntingly. And she ate it voluptuously—not sectioning it with knife or fork, but rolling it omelette wise about her fork like an Italian with macaroni, and I followed each mouthful with my hungry eyes and opened my own mouth slightly each time and thrilled at her dexterity as when I watch a motorcar being lowered into the open hatchway of a ship.—Howard Conland in Yale Review.

Sand Swept Asia.

In the arid lands of central Asia the air is reported as often laden with fine detritus, which drifts like snow around conspicuous objects and tends to bury them in a dust drift. Even when there is no apparent wind the air is described as thick with fine dust, and a yellow sediment covers everything. In Khotan this dust sometimes so obscures the sun that at midday one cannot see to read fine print without a lamp.

American Declarations Are Accepted By Kaiser

Ambassador Bernstorff Informs Secretary Lansing of His Country's Acceptance of the Principle That Passenger Ships Are Not to Be Attacked Without Warning

DANGEROUS FRICTION BETWEEN GERMANY AND U. S. PASSED

Ambassador Says This Principle Was Ready for Acceptance Before Arabic Was Sunk—Reparation for American Loss in Lusitania, Arabic and Other Ships Torpedoed Will Be Next Step—American Diplomats Highly Gratified Over the Solution of the Submarine Question.

By Associated Press.
Washington, September 1.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, on instructions from Berlin, verbally informed Secretary Lansing today that the German government had accepted the principle that passenger liners should be warned before attacks by submarines.

Secretary Lansing, following the visit, said: "The German ambassador told me that his government would accept our declarations regarding submarine warfare in principle."

"The ambassador agreed to reduce his statement to writing, which he will submit to me later in the day."

Secretary Lansing said he would withhold comment until this was received. He did not know whether the whole statement would be made public.

Acceptance of the principle that passenger ships are not to be attacked without warning, would be considered as an answer to President Wilson's last note on the Lusitania.

If it is established clearly that Germany has yielded to the representations of this government respecting safety of neutrals on the high seas, it is believed the submarine controversy will be well under way toward an amicable settlement.

On information from Ambassador Page at London, it was learned today, State Department officials have been convinced that the German submarine which sank the Arabic was itself sunk later by a British warship, and that no report from her commander can be expected.

Ambassador von Bernstorff later sent Secretary Lansing a letter, saying:

"With reference to our conversation of this morning, I beg to inform you that my instructions concerning our answer to your last Lusitania note contains the following passage: 'Liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of non-combatants, provided that the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance.'"

"Although I know that you do not wish to discuss the Lusitania question until the Arabic incident has been definitely and satisfactorily settled, I desire to inform you of the above because this policy of my government was decided upon before the Arabic incident occurred."

Secretary Lansing then made the following statement:

"In view of the clearness of the foregoing statement, it seems needless to make any comment other than to say that it appears to be a recognition of the fundamental principles for which we have contended." Everywhere in official circles gratification was evident that the submarine crisis had passed.

The question of reparation for the Americans who lost their lives on the Lusitania, Arabic and other ships which have been torpedoed probably will be the next step in the proceedings.

CONFIRMS DEATH OF GREAT PEGGOLD

By Associated Press.
Paris, September 1.—Reports of the death of Adolphe Peggold, famous French aviator who originated the loop-the-loop in an aeroplane, have been officially confirmed.

AMERICAN SHIP WAS UNDER FIRE

Boston, September 1.—The American bark Ruth Stark, of Boston, was held up off the Irish coast August 3 by a German submarine, which fired one warning shot and a second aimed at the vessel, the captain reported today.

After learning the bark's identity she was permitted to proceed.

AMERICANS RESTING ON THEIR GUNS

By Associated Press.
Sierra Blanca, Texas, September 1.—Men of the Big Bend county were under arms today for fear of reprisals by General Pascual Orozco's organization of "Colorados," as the result of the killing of the most noted Mexican leader by United States soldiers and Texas rangers Monday.

American authorities have formed a theory that Orozco was trying to bring to focus an organized invasion of Texas on a large scale, under the name of Nationalist Party, into which malcontents of all factions were to be drawn.

It was to align itself with Carranza, in case Carranza refused to accept the A. B. C. plan for a peace conference.

Twenty-four ranchowners, cowboys, custom house officials and cavalry troops participated in the 24-hour hunt which ended in Orozco's death.

BARTLOW REFUSES TO QUIT

Columbus, September 1.—Bert S. Biglow, of Hamilton, Democrat, today refused to surrender his office of chief inspector in the dairy and food division of the State Board of Agriculture to Thomas L. Calvert, of Clark county, appointed by the State Board, Monday.

Bartlow maintained he was protected against removal by civil service rules.

Rennick W. Dunlap, secretary of the board, told the clerical force to take orders from Calvert.

Dismissal of Democratic employees in different state departments continued today.

EASTERN ARENA NOW BRISTLING

Geneva, Switzerland, September 1.—The Journal De Geneva states that Germany has prepared not one but two strong lines of defense from the North sea to Switzerland. From the same source comes the affirmation that after consolidating its position around Warsaw, the Germans will entrench all along the Russian front and wait for peace in most favorable conditions. According to this authority, von Hindenburg's plan does not involve a pursuit of the Russian army beyond the line required to rectify the front east of Warsaw.

ALARM SEIZES HEARTS

By Associated Press.

New York, September 1.—English money, already depreciated without parallel in the history of finance, took another phenomenal drop today. The pound sterling sold at $4.50, a break of 5 1/4 cents over night.

Continued depreciation, it was thought, would affect thousands of American workmen, by closing down factories now supplying England with commodities, since foreign orders would be cancelled.

No cancellation of war orders have been reported yet.

Dispatch Indicates Mikado Will Take a Hand to Oust Sultan's Forces—Berlin Estimates Russian Dead at 300,000 Since May 2—Czar's Expense for 1915 Five Billion Dollars— German Drive Continues.

By Associated Press.
Berlin, September 1.—An official review of the eastern campaign estimates that since May 2, the Russians have lost at least 300,000 men, in killed or wounded, and 1,100,000 men captured by the Germans.

Petrograd, September 1.—The finance committee of the Duma today presented a bill to extend the issue of paper money.

It reported that for 1915 the estimated was expenses $3,621,000,000, and other expenses $1,423,000,000, making a total of over $5,000,000,000.

London, September 1.—Germany's plan for driving three wedges into the Russian defensive lines is being carried forward, but with less speed than marked the sweep over Poland.

Riga is almost isolated and must fall, unless the Russians soon throw heavy forces against von Hindenburg's exposed flank.

Although this attack seems to have been checked for the moment, the Russians have been unable to develop a counter offensive in the region comparable with their activities in east Galicia, where, on the river Stripa, they have turned at bay and inflicted large losses on their opponents.

Petrograd declares that 2,000 prisoners, 30 cannon and 34 machine guns were captured in Galicia within the last day or two.

For five or six days on the western front, a rain of shells from French guns has been poured on the German trenches, and it is not believed here that so much precious ammunition would be used without some sort of concerted effort to occupy the shattered trenches.

Berlin, September 1.—German troops fighting for Grodno are now in front of the outer line of forts of that stronghold, according to today's official statement.

MORE TROOPS ON MEXICAN BORDER

Step Taken Against a Possible Uprising on This Side.

MEXICAN RESIDENTS RESTIVE

Wild Scheme Launched on Part of Mexican Agitators to Wrest From Texas Territory Originally Belonging to Mexico—Carranza, if He Would Avert Outside Action, Must Reply Soon to Pan-American Note.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Acting on the request of Major General Funston, the war department ordered additional troops to the border from Galveston, Tex. General Funston is understood to have urged that this action be taken as a precaution against a general uprising among the Mexicans living on this side of the border.

The orders were issued to the Sixth cavalry and the Fourth and Nineteenth regiments of infantry. The cavalry troops and the Fourth infantry will proceed to Harlingen, where the recent disturbances started. Two battalions of the Nineteenth infantry will go to Del Rio and the third battalion has been ordered to Fort Sam Houston.

Although officials of the war department describe the movements as purely precautionary, the official reports from the border are said to confirm in part, at least, the press dispatches from San Antonio and other parts of Texas showing unrest among the Mexican residents and the spread of the wild scheme on the part of Mexican agitators to start a movement to wrest from Texas certain territory originally belonging to Mexico.

Dispatches from San Antonio told of the arrest there of twenty-six Mexicans whom the police charged with inciting violence. Twenty-three of those arrested were detained. Reports from other towns along the border described steps taken by the United States postal authorities and customs officials to prevent the distribution of Mexican newspapers urging an uprising.

General Carranza, first chief of the Constitutionalist faction in Mexico must reply to the Pan-American appeal, if he replies at all, within the next ten days. Otherwise, according to information obtained in authoritative quarters, the next step of the outside powers to restore peace in Mexico and set up a new government will be taken without his acquiescence. There is every indication that there will be no more postponements.

CLAIM SUB SENT DOWN

Washington, Sept. 1.—There is good reason to believe that the German submarine which sank the White Star liner Arabic without warning has herself been lost. Information to this effect, it is understood, reached Washington through a reliable channel. The fact that it is now thirteen days since the Arabic was sent to the bottom and the German admiral apparently has received no word yet from the undersea boat, has strengthened the belief in the reliability of the information that has reached Washington that the German submarine has been destroyed.

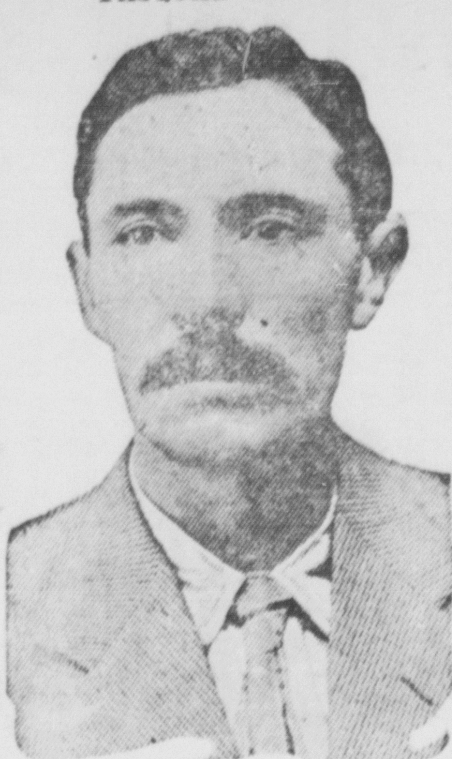

A dispatch from Liverpool says: "The German submarine which sank the White Star liner Arabic on Aug. 19 was herself sunk by a British patrol boat the day following the destruction of the liner."

FATAL AFFRAY

Cincinnati, Sept. 1.—Frank J. Clements, a guard at the Cincinnati workhouse, was shot and probably fatally wounded, and the police are searching for Harry Leahy, vice president of the American District Telegraph company in this city, who they want in connection with the shooting.

ELECTROCUTED

Steubenville, O., Sept. 1.—Andy Buknos, thirty, was electrocuted in the Labelle iron works shaft. His head came in contact with a live wire.

Noted Mexican general who is said to have met death at the hands of American cowboys who repelled a raid made by Mexicans.

OROZCO KILLED IN RAID

Mexican Leader Was Member of Band of Raiders.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 1.—Pasqual Orozco, famous as a revolutionist and Mexican leader, died at the hands of a posse of Americans with the sting of "horsethief" upon him. Louis Holzman, United States customs inspector of El Paso, positively identified one of the five Mexican raiders killed in this country in the Eagle mountains as Orozco. Holzman was sent to the scene of the killing by Customs Collector Z. L. Cobb, upon receipt of a request to send one who could identify Orozco. When Holzman reached the scene of the last stand of the five Mexicans he positively declared one of the bodies to be that of the former Mexican chief, once dictator of all northern Mexico, and later one of the trusted lieutenants of General Huerta.

Pasqual Orozco was out on bond of $7,500 to appear in the United States court to answer to the charge of conspiracy to violate the neutrality laws. He was arrested Sunday, June 27, at Newman Station, fifteen miles north of El Paso, where he had gone with an auto to meet General Victoriano Huerta and take him from the train. Both Huerta and Orozco were admitted to bond, but Huerta was later re-arrested. Orozco, though kept under surveillance, slipped away from his guards and has been missing since that time.

PRES. WILSON IS INDORSED

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 1.—Kentucky Democrats were the first to indorse President Wilson for the presidency in 1916. This step was taken in the state convention of the Democratic party. The resolution said in part: "We believe that his mastery of the situation (referring to the European war) requires his renomination in 1916, and heartily indorse him as the party's most efficient and trusted leader in the coming national election."

OPEN LAMP SCORE DIE

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 1.—Eighteen men are dead and a score or more badly injured as the result of an explosion in the Orenda No. 2 mine of the Merchants' Coal company, at Boswell. When the rescue parties reached the part of the mine in which the explosion occurred they sent out fourteen bodies. None have been identified as yet. Reports in Boswell have it that a fall of rock loosened a gas pocket, which was fired by an open lamp. Afterdamp killed most of the victims.

Hundreds of Democrats Holding Office Will Be Dismissed.

Columbus, Sept. 1.—Dismissal of Democratic state employees holding office under noncompetitive civil service examinations followed close upon the taking effect of the new merit service law. The dismissal is expected to continue in the departments controlled by Republicans until a majority of the several hundred offices are filled by persons of the same politics, provided Republicans are able to pass competitive tests.

Refusal of the Franklin county common pleas court to grant an injunction against the state civil service commission's attempting to enforce the new law has the effect of leaving it in full force, to remain so until a higher court declares it valid. The decision was rendered by Judge E. B. Dillon, who held the law valid, without going into the merits of the case.

M'ADOO IS TOUTED FOR N. Y. CHIEF

New York, Sept. 1.—Political circles were interested in a report that Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, son-in-law of President Wilson, is to be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor next year. Mr. McAdoo was in town in conference with a number of friends. Among those who saw him was Stewart G. Gibboney, recognized representative of the Wilson Democracy in New York and dispenser of federal patronage. Although no confirmation could be gained of the story, it was said that Gibboney and the treasury head were going over a well planned campaign for the furtherance of Mr. McAdoo's candidacy.

Politics in Public Service

Developments in state politics came fast and thick during the first two days of the present week.

The new civil service law which became effective Tuesday rendered nearly seventeen hundred state appointees jobless, or rather bared the necks of nearly that many to the descending axe of partisanship which insures this early decapitation.

Many individuals who have been drawing good salaries from the state treasury for "service rendered" have already been notified that they need not report for duty and many others are expecting such notices within a short time.

The partisans of Governor Willis claim that a real genuine merit law regulating the public service is being put into operation, while his opponents claim that a real merit law is being murdered and a partisan measure for the sole purpose of ousting faithful public servants in order that their places may go to others as a reward for political activities is being forced into effect. Suits at law questioning the validity of the new law have been launched and in the meantime the public service is more or less chaotic because of the controversy.

Petitions for referendum elections on the congressional gerrymander law and on the McDermott liquor license law are being circulated and the governor is engaged in an endeavor to ascertain who, if any, among the men he has appointed to place in the public service, are lending aid and comfort to those who are attacking the work of the last general assembly.

In addition to all that, General Burnet, commandant at the Sandusky Soldiers' Home, has been asked by the governor to resign and the State Board of Administration refuses to accept the resignation which the commandant has tendered, because the general has incorporated his reason for tendering the resignation. The governor is threatening to call the board of administration into his office and tell them a few plain truths just as soon as press of business will permit.

Those are only a few of the political mixups which are springing up each day to annoy those interested directly or indirectly in Ohio politics and that's every good citizen.

It is safe to say that never has the state been in a more disturbed condition, politically, than it is right now.

One difficulty is not cleared away until a half dozen others more formidable and more disturbing in their complexity and effect arise.

As to the particular politics primarily responsible for all the rows now on and threatened there is, of course, a difference of opinion, but anyone who believed that the public service of the state was, even to an appreciable extent, free from politics or entertained any hopes that it soon would be, must, in the face of existing conditions, acknowledge that he was all wrong.

Right now there is more politics in the public service of the state than ever before. The wild scramble for place by those who want to get in and the bull dog tenacity exhibited by those who would hold on in spite of all efforts to dislodge them is proof that love of place and power for the material rewards they bring, not patriotism, still controls the great majority of those who seek to become or to remain public servants.

The present unpleasant spectacle in Ohio politics which people are compelled to read about and hear about every day is conclusive proof that the public service of Ohio is today deeper in politics than ever before and that the spoils system if not stronger, is more in evidence than it has been for a decade past.

Monday's Shivering Blast

The light frost of Tuesday morning reported from various localities throughout Ohio and several others of the corn belt states, was not, according to best advices, a "killing frost."

This latest prank of the most peculiar August weather within the memory of the present generation was the crowning event of a remarkable summer.

A heavy frost at this time of the year, especially in view of the fact that the corn crop is yet green and tender, would result in enormous damage. The anxiety of the farmers and business men on account of the long drawn out rainy season and the condition of the one big and really, now, most important crop remaining unharvested, was intensified by the chill winds which blew from the north and northeast all during Monday.

All of the old fashioned weather prophets anticipated the danger and, as is usually the case, were free in disseminating remarks and observations not at all conducive to confidence.

The warm sun of Tuesday, which shown from a cloudless sky, soon dispelled the fear occasioned by the gloomy forebodings regarding the distress sure to follow in the wake of the chill winds and leaden skies of Monday.

The danger, and it was a danger, has passed by and the farmers are one day nearer the harvest time and the most cheering feature of the weather conditions following the chill of Monday night was the fact that no rain came to retard the drying process which has already commenced in the corn fields.

Each day of dry weather now means that the farmers are that much nearer the time when his corn crop will be transformed into money in the bank.

Poetry For Today

THE SONG OF THE ZEPPELIN.
By Skye ways, o'er mountain height
The dim earth slumbering far below:
I hold my course by compass right
O'er neutral lands, o'er friend or foe!
The glittering constellations burn
Unnumbered in their stellar fires;
Space silent spreads where'er I turn,
And far below are mountain spires!

Onward I speed 'neath moon or star;
Chill grows the night o'er Bulgar plain;
The skies above all peaceful are
Where Night and Silence hold their reign!
No sentry's warning challenge comes
To halt me in my onward flight;
Like martial music, beat of drums,
My engine heart throbs all the night.

No messenger of love am I,
But like Jove's Eagle swift I go;
I bear through depths of silent sky
The thunderbolts of war and woe.
My Compass points to Dardanelles,
Where mighty hosts opposing stand;
My dragon teeth of shot and shells
I soon will strew upon their strand!

A monarch I of night and air
I scorn the earth below me flung;
The things I do, the deeds I dare
Not Homer's self e'er dreamed or sung!
And Ilion's topmost tower vast
To me an idle boast but seems;
The present clime teh mighty past,
For I have scaled the heights of dreams!

Lo! in the East the morning star
Now glows o'er lofty Ida's height;
The dawn slow climbs the Orient bar—
'Tis time I fold my wings of night!
For far below, Sophia's dome
Stands guard above the Golden Horn;
Its Star and Crescent signal "Home"
My freight of death I land at morn!

You do not have to quarrel with a woman to make her mad. She will get mad if you refuse to quarrel with her. The reason why a girl is so elated when she is wearing new silk underwear is because she would have a fit if she thought you could see it.

There are worse people than the egotist. He is usually so busy talking about himself that he hasn't time to knock other people.

The old fashioned woman who used to imagine that people fed the kitty on cat meat when they were playing poker now has a daughter who knows the value of a big dog hand.

The reason why a princess takes up painting before she marries is because later on when she has four kids she will spend all her time over a stove studying interior decorating.

If fresh air cost a dollar a bottle people would never be without it.

A man can easily find a dozen reasons why he should put other things off until tomorrow but he can't think of a single reason why he shouldn't take a drink right now.

A man never knows how fond of onions a girl is until the honeymoon is over.

A woman knows two or three hundred things that are good for the complexion, but when she is dressing the only thing she can think of is paint.

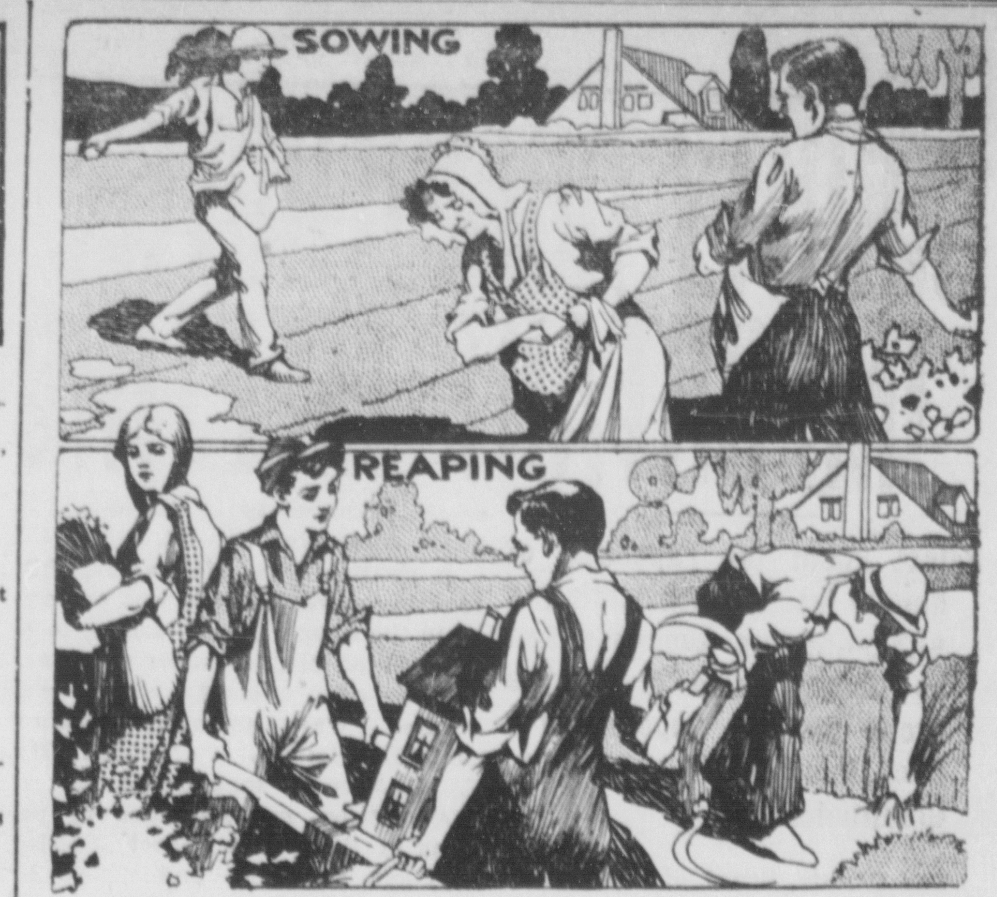

About the third time a fellow calls on a girl she could describe their new home and go into details about the color scheme and tell him where the dining room is located. But the fellow doesn't know it.

Whether you are intoxicated with booze or intoxicated with success, a swelled head is always the result.

When a girl asks a young man to carry her powder rag in his pocket for her when they are going out together you can bet that it is all over with him, and he might as well take his medicine and help her select the wall paper and the furniture.

It isn't a crime for a bachelor to be thirty years old. But it is different with an unmarried girl. Or so some people think, anyway.

You may imagine that a man is loyal to his pet brand of booze. But his loyalty is as nothing when compared to a woman's loyalty to her pet brand of baking powder.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Baby's Earache and Pain.
Whenever baby cries look at his face and his hands. The face invariably tells if the cry is caused by pain, and the little hands frequently point to the site of the pain. If he draws up his legs he has colic or abdominal pain. If he has earache there is no safer treatment than heat applied outside of the ear—hot flannels or a hot water bag. If this does not quiet the pain then syringe out the ear with water as hot as the finger can be dipped in. Use a soft all rubber syringe and insert it gently into the opening into the ear. Never use oil or anything else unless prescribed by the doctor. If a second attack of earache occurs send for a physician. If earaches are allowed to continue permanent deafness may be the result.

The pain in the abdomen is the commonest form of pain, and it can be most quickly relieved by giving an enema of four or five ounces of warm water. The pain is caused by gas, and as soon as this is expelled the baby will fall asleep. Warmth should be applied to the feet and also to the abdomen.

Great Men Born in Wartime.
It is pointed out that during the first years of the last century, from 1800 or 1810 to 1815, when all Europe was suffering from the Napoleonic wars, she gave birth to almost every great man who was to guide her better destinies for 100 years to come. In that terrible period of travail Britain gave birth to Disraeli, Gladstone, Cobden, Bright, Browning, Tennyson, Shaftesbury and many others. Italy had Cavour, Mazzini, Garibaldi and Victor Emmanuel, the four men who secured the liberty and unity of the Italian kingdom. America gave us Wendell Phillips, William Lloyd Garrison, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Henry Ward Beecher and, most glorious of all, Abraham Lincoln.—British Weekly.

COUNTY BOARD HOLDS IMPORTANT MEETING

Reject Claim for Expenses of
County Institute Amounting to
$235—Anders Succeeds Self
as County Examiner—Wayne
Drops District Supervision—
Buck Run Would Attach to Greenfield.

The County Board of Education did things at a meeting held Tuesday, at which all members were present except W. W. Wilson.

The bill presented by Supt. Wm. McClain for the expenses of the County Teachers' Institute and amounting to $235.25, was rejected, the Board holding that no institute was held. The facts are that a resolution passed providing for an institute was later repealed by the Board, and those interested in the holding of an institute proceeded with the same, ignoring the cancellation of the provisions by the Board, claiming legal authority. The vote to reject the bill was unanimous.

C. L. Anders was appointed county school examiner for a period of two years, succeeding himself.

A petition from Wayne township, covering eleven schools, was presented to the County Board, asking to be relieved of district superintendency and the cost thereof which was granted. Wayne township is included in District No. 3, of which Mr. F. M. Allen is superintendent.

A petition was also filed by patrons of Buck Run School District, in Perry township, and signed by considerably more than the required number of persons, asking that the district be taken from District No. 3, in Fayette county, and attached to the Greenfield village School District, which comprises Greenfield and the township surrounding in Highland county. This is an old question and has been attempted heretofore. Owing to the fact that a full board was not present this matter was carried over until later. It is said that the members present favor the change and it is predicted that in all probability favorable action will result.

The County Board adjourned to meet at the call of President Wilson Morris.

FAYETTE COUNTY HORSES WINNERS AT STATE FAIR

Fayette county made great showing at the state fair Tuesday in both draft horse exhibits and the evening Horse Show, where classes were full of entries of the best horses now showing in the middle west.

Fayette's winnings were conspicuous in the events, marked by the appearance of J. Martin Cox's horse, Pocklington Protector, who was easily the best heavy harness horse in the show, winning over entries from Kentucky and Indianapolis.

Fayette county had four horses "inside the money" at the Big Horse Show. Frany Myer's jumper, Kildeer, won third in jumper class. Billie D., a brown gelding from the Moreland stables, discovered at one of the Washington combination sales in this city, winner in the Runabout Horses' class was one of the foremost horses of the show.

An immense throng packed itself in front of the grand stand for the horse show, held immediately preceding the display of fireworks.

Belgian Show.

Tuesday was Belgian Day and the showing of fine draft horses interested breeders from all over the country.

The Hagler horses were the sensation of the show. In competition with the leading breeders, exhibitors and importers of the country, they took the bulk of the awards. They were entered by Roy Hagler and son Jesse; the latter showing the animals to the admiration of the spectators.

The Hagler winnings were: First of two-year-old mare; First, third and fourth of yearling mares; First in Filly Foal; First on Stallion Foal; First on Stallion and Get; First on Produce of Mare; Fifth on Aged Stallion; Fifth on Aged Mare; Third on Yearling Stallion.

First on Special Premium offered by the Belgian Society for the three best mares, owned by one exhibitor. Reserve champion mare any age.

The state fair's entries in draft classes are in advance in quality, if not in quantity, over those of 1914. The large number of exhibitors, small breeders, farm breeders, and the absence of the professional, showing live interest of farmers and breeders in Ohio in stock improvement, is gratifying.

A general spirit of unpreparedness seems manifest at the fair, but the crowds are record breaking, and interest along stock breeding and agricultural lines seems to dominate over all other attractions.

TRAIN RIDERS ARE NABBED BY DETECTIVE

Baltimore & Ohio train detective Kennedy arrested six train riders in the local yards Wednesday morning about four o'clock and placed them in the county jail.

About eight o'clock Wednesday morning the six men, M. D. Meyers, Arthur Cummins, Alfred Huver, Albert Boyd, George Atterton and Delbert Summers, were all taken before Probate Judge Rell G. Allen.

The men were all young, save one and were all respectable and nice looking. They told Judge Allen a straight forward story about being in hard luck and looking for work. They were from widely separated cities, towns and were traveling separately, each on his own mission. They told Judge Allen that they had heard of work at various points along the line and were on their way to a place where work could be obtained.

Judge Allen was impressed with their story and their appearance and assessed a fine of ten dollars and costs on each offender, permitting them to work out the bill on the court house lawn and in the building.

It is likely they will pay the bill of the state against them within a short time and be on their way.

Mr. Claggen retains his affiliation with The Herald for the present.

ALLEN CONFERS WITH DONAHEY

Mr. Chas. Allen, of this city, one of the Ohio Commissioners at the San Francisco exposition, spent Tuesday at Columbus in conference with State Auditor Donahey. Mr. Allen has charge of securing and arranging for all live stock exhibits at the big exposition.

Owing to the fact that transportation charges on live stock are so heavy—about $1,000 a car by express, four days in transit or about $500 per car by freight, a ten day's journey—Ohio exhibitors, especially the foremost breeders of live stock, have been hard to interest and it was with a view to making some arrangements by which the state would pay transportation charges in the first instance.

The state appropriated about $15,000 to pay transportation cost on Ohio live stock exhibits at the fair. The commission has estimated that about $6,000 will be required to pay the transportation charges on horses and a like amount for cattle, while $3,000 each for the cost of transporting the exhibits of sheep and hogs has been the estimate of the commission.

The difficulty, however, has come about by reason of the fact that the exhibitors are compelled to pay the charges and look to the state for reimbursement.

Mr. Allen states that his interview with the state auditor was very satisfactory and leads him to believe that an arrangement can now be made which will be of great benefit to prospective Ohio exhibitors.

The bulk of the Ohio live stock exhibits were to go forward for the fall show and Mr. Allen's task has been, in view of the restrictions regarding the payment of transportation charges, a particularly difficult one.

APPRAISERS BEGIN TAKING INVENTORY OF CURRAN ESTATE

The appraisers appointed by the Probate Court, A. M. Anderson, J. A. Edge and George D. Hays, accompanied by the administrator, Mr. S. F. Snider, Wednesday morning commenced the work of appraising the personal property of the estate of Melissa Curran, deceased.

The greater portion of the chattel property is located in Green township. It is likely that the appraisal cannot be concluded in one day.

John Kennedy, who is wanted by the police for connection with the same alleged offense, has not been located by the police.

KATZ, YOUR CLOTHIER

THE BIG CORNER

BIG GUNS OF A CENTURY AGO

The Turks Used Cannon That Fired Great Granite Boulders.

It would scarcely appear feasible that a shot weighing 800 pounds could have been employed a century ago, yet the Turks, who used the largest cannon in Europe, actually used guns of such caliber at that time.

When Sir J. Duckworth passed the Dardanelles to attack Constantinople in 1807 his fleet was dreadfully shattered by the immense shot thrown from the batteries. The Royal George, of 110 guns, was nearly sunk by only one shot, while another cut the mainmast of the Windsor Castle almost in two, a single shot knocked two ports of the Thunderer into one; the Repulse (seventy-four guns) had her wheel shot away and twenty-four men killed and wounded by a shot, the ship being saved only by the most wonderful exertions.

The heaviest shot which struck the British ships was of granite, weighing 800 pounds, and was twenty-six inches in diameter. One such shot, to the astonishment of the tars, stove in the whole starboard bow of the Active, and, having crushed this immense mass of timber, the shot rolled ponderously aft, the crew standing aghast at this singular spectacle.

One of these guns was cast in brass. It was composed of two parts, its breach resting against massive stone-work, and the difficulty of charging such a monster would not allow of its being fired more than once.—Dundee Advertiser.

CRABS IN FULL DRESS.

Some Species Are Fond of Finery and Clothe Themselves Carefully.

Many of the crab species of shellfish clothe themselves. Some species dress elaborately by taking small pieces of different colored weeds and sticking them on the shell, so as to look like a stone covered with weed. They spend hours, with the utmost perseverance, in making these pieces adhere, by trying the same piece over and over again till they succeed. They have a fine sense of symmetry and always put a red piece on one limb to match the red piece they have put on the other, and a green piece to match a green piece, though how they know red from green in the dark pools where they live is hard to say, unless it is by taste or smell. When once their dress is completed it improves the older it becomes, as the weed actually grows on them.

Another species, with like habits and a most decided love for finery, was described at a meeting of the Linnæan society, as clothing themselves with bits of bright colored seaweed, sponges, and so forth. If the crab be despoiled of its garments it at once proceeds to clothe itself again with care and deliberation, manifested not only in the selection of its articles of apparel, but in the proper shaping of them by means of its pincers.—London Spectator.

The Attorney in England.

The use of the word attorney denotes a belated mind. Since Nov. 1, 1875, attorneys have ceased to exist, their title merged by law into that of solicitor of the supreme court of judicature, says a writer in the London Mail. The name had long been used as a term of abuse. Johnson observed of an acquaintance that "he did not care to speak ill of any man behind his back, but he believed the gentleman was an attorney."

Archbishop Trench in 1859 noted that the word attorney was going out of favor and that the lower branch of the legal profession preferred to be called solicitors. So when the Judicature act of 1873 was before parliament a clause was inserted abolishing the obnoxious title. But with our delightful conservatism we still honor the "attorney general."

Knocking on Wood.

"Knock on wood" is one of the most antique expressions in use today instead of being modern slang, according to Professor William F. Bode. The expression dates from a custom in vogue 5,000 years ago, when wood was regarded as the antipathy of evil genies. Metals were regarded as tabooed by certain spirits, and if a man handled these metals he immediately touched wood to appease the spirits. Ancient records show that King Solomon's temple was built with wooden tools and implements made of precious metals, for iron was tabooed and would have polluted the temple.—Exchange.

Overworked Runabout.

A writer for a farm magazine says an ordinary runabout can be made to run a circular saw, pump water, haul freight, drive dairy machinery, fill the silo, shred the fodder and crush grain feed. Possibly, but it would have little time in which to run about.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Charge Explained.

Judge—What's your charge against the prisoner? Complainant—Burglary. He stole $5 from me at the station. Judge—But for burglary there must be a breaking. Complainant—Well, your honor, when he took the five he broke me.—Boston Transcript.

A Female Veteran.

He—Isn't that General X. and his daughter over there? He—Yes. They say that she has been through more engagements than her old father.—Boston Transcript.

A cheerful and glad spirit attains to perfection much more readily than a melancholy spirit.—S. Philip Neri.

In Social Circles

The August Kensington of the W. R. C. was held at the home of Mrs. Paul Hildebrandt, on E. Temple street, Tuesday afternoon, and proved one of the most delightful of their numerous affairs.

Fall flowers of many hues were profusely arranged throughout the rooms and together with the cordial hospitality of the hostess and assisting hostess were much enjoyed by the members and invited guests.

The afternoon's business program was interspersed with musical numbers on the pianola, with tempting refreshments served at its close.

Assisting Mrs. Hildebrandt as hostess were Mesdames Wm. Davenport, George Hays, J. A. Melvin, John Morris, George Pensyl, Laura Ott, Susan Stoddard, Frances Bales.

The members of the Church of Christ together with a number of their friends gave Dr. Teeters and his family a very delightful surprise Monday evening at the church. Baskets filled with good things to eat were brought and supper was served in the basement.

After supper a number of talks were made by members of the church and others expressing their appreciation of the work of Dr. Teeters and his family in the congregation and of their influence in the community. They have many friends in New Holland. Dr. Teeters is a man who has won the highest respect and esteem of his fellowmen, and our town loses one of its best citizens in his going from us, and the church one of its most faithful workers.—New Holland Leader.

Washington friends of Dr. Teeters and his family will be interested in learning of the regret felt in New Holland over the approaching departure of the Teeters family for their new home in Bowersville. Mrs. Teeters is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flee of this city.

Mrs. Ola Boyer, of N. North street entertained at a delightful six o'clock dinner Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moots and son Harold, Mrs. Ray Glaize of Charleston, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tysor and daughter Miss Mary left Wednesday for their country place at Gallatin, Tenn.

Mrs. S. E. Simmons is spending the week in Columbus and Cincinnati, attending the fall millinery openings.

Miss Levona Cheek was able to leave the Fayette Hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis three weeks ago, and go to her home on S. Hinde street.

Mr. Coke McArthur is in Columbus a couple of days attending the state fair.

Mrs. Frank Bohn came over from Chillicothe Tuesday afternoon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Burke.

Mrs. Walter Dunlap, of Greenfield, spent Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. H. B. Maynard.

Mrs. Will Hay leaves Thursday for Kansas City, Mo., where she will remain for a visit of some weeks with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Jacob Stultz of Sabina, is a shopping visitor here today.

Dr. Clayton Lanum is spending the day in Columbus.

Mrs. Hallie Voss and Miss Ruth Campbell of Cooks, are among delegates at the W. C. T. U. convention.

Miss Roxie Stinson returned Tuesday night from a ten days' stay at Cedar Point.

Mr. A. R. Williams, of Portsmouth has accepted a position in Christopher's drug store.

Messrs W. R. Collins and Lewis Moore are among state fair visitors.

Mrs. Claude L. Clemmens has been quite ill at her home on Paint street this week, her condition showing improvement today.

Mr. Homer Brown and wife have returned to Middletown, where Mr. Brown holds a lucrative position, after a visit with his father, Mr. Albert Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bonham, daughter, Mrs. Ralph C. Browne, of Cincinnati, and Sam Wolf motored to Columbus to attend the fair Wednesday.

Mr. John DeWitt is attending the state fair today.

Mr. William Hardway is spending the week in Columbus to attend the fair.

Mrs. Joseph H. Harper is spending a few days with Mr. Harper in Columbus, Miss Helen Harper accompanying her to Columbus and going on to Woodstock for a visit with school friends.

Misses Clara and Hazel Patterson are visiting in Columbus this week.

Miss Pauline Dale left Wednesday morning for a visit with friends in Cincinnati.

Mr. F. P. Rais, district superintendent of the Western and Southern Insurance Co., of Chillicothe, visited the local office in this city Tuesday.

Mr. Elza Long was taken to the Fayette Hospital with a grave case of appendicitis Tuesday and operated upon. It is thought that he is doing as well as possible today.

Mrs. Abbie Hare Morrison, of St. Augustine, Fla., is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swartz, for a couple of months.

Mr. Louis Kauffman has moved his family from the Hammer property on Market street to the Dale property on Temple. Mr. Levi Reeder has rented the Hammer property, his family moving from Leesburg avenue next week.

Miss Mary Collins has returned from San Francisco, Cal., where she represented the Ohio University Chapter of the Alpha Xi Delta Fraternity at the national convention. Miss Collins also attended both of the California expositions, took the campers' trip through Yellow Stone Park and toured extensively through the west.

Dr. Florence Rankin and Mrs. Armethia Linellen have returned from an extensive western trip. Since leaving the party with which they made the trip out and toured Yellow Stone National Park, they visited in Los Angeles, in Portland, Oregon where Dr. Rankin attended the national Osteopathic convention, Seattle, Wash., and in Wanboy, S. Da. At the latter place they were the guests at the home of Mrs. Lieuelin's brother, Hon. C. C. Bush, where Mr. and Mrs. Frank Osborn, of Jeffersonville, are now visiting.

John Crayton Griffis returned Tuesday night from a visit in Union City, Ind.

Relatives have received word that Hon. H. L. Hadley is still confined to his bed from the accident which he suffered at the home of his cousin at Whiteface, N. H. Although no bones are broken the injuries to the hip are sufficient to cause him weeks of inactivity and much suffering. Mr. Hadley's many Washington friends are sincerely hoping for his complete recovery.

Mrs. Rachel Darlington, sons, Messrs Ed and George Darlington, daughter, Mrs. Wert Briggs, left Wednesday morning for Winchester to attend the Centennial celebration and Home Coming Thursday morning. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rothrock, Mr. J. L. Rothrock and Mr. P. E. Rothrock, go to Winchester for the Home Coming. Thursday will be the big day, with a spectacular presentation of the famous Morgan's Raid, which robbed every store in Winchester except one, and the pursuit of Gen. Hobson, the leading feature of the entertainment planned.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

CLARK—The remains of Mr. Jesse Clark, who died in Dayton, will be brought to this city Thursday morning on the 9:44 C. H. & D. train and be taken immediately to the Washington cemetery for burial.

THE W. C. T. U. CONVENTION

As a forerunner to the 30th W. C. T. U. County Convention, holding session at the First Baptist church today a lecture delivered Tuesday night at the First Baptist church by Mrs. Stella Snodgrass, state lecturer, under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. was of absorbing interest.

After the opening exercises the audience enjoyed a beautiful piano solo by Miss Golda Ryan.

Mrs. Snodgrass, from her personal experience in the temperance work, made an address upon the "Finger Points upon the Nation," developing her subject with force and originality.

She stated that there are more insane, epileptic and feeble minded than fifty years ago. "What is to be done? We are paying out enormous sums to take care of them.

"We have over five millions of syphilitics, seventy-five out of every hundred made blind by this disease.

"Fathers as well as mothers should teach their sons.

"The more we shirk our responsibility the less God will do for us."

Morning Session.

At 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning the members met in executive session, Mrs. Alice Taggart presiding. After discussion it was decided that the union purchase a dozen copies of the Testament for the children at the county home. It was also arranged, in view of the fact that the children of the Home do not have sufficient good literature, that the union secure books from the library for their use, the county executive officers to be responsible for the return to the state library of the books in fair condition.

The meeting proper was called to order at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Hallie King led devotional exercises and in several short prayers the desire was voiced that Fayette county secure the service of some good brave man to lead in the temperance cause.

Members responded to roll call with brief quotations, and Mrs. Snodgrass of Xenia, who lectures Wednesday afternoon and night, was introduced.

Mrs. Icy Allen read an interesting report of the work of the previous year wherein it was shown that the county union now has a membership of 349; that 30,359 pages of literature had been distributed besides numerous post cards, posters, pen-nats, etc.

Mrs. Alice Adams gave a report on the evangelistic department after which election of officers for the ensuing year was held. The election resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. Alice Taggart; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Icy Allen; Treasurer, Mrs. Carrie B. Willis; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Laura C. Pine.

Meeting adjourned for the noon recess, to reconvene at 1:30.

CULBERSON WILL

The last will and testament of the late Dora A. Culbertson was filed for probate Wednesday. The instrument is very brief and devises all real and personal property of the decedent to her husband, Harvey Culbertson, Jr. The principal part of the estate consists of two properties in this city, valued at about $5000.

SMALLER UNITS IN GREAT PERIL

Fleeing Russian Forces Cut Into Three Sections.

NO LET UP IN GERMAN PURSUIT

Berlin Believes Hundreds of Thousands Instead of Thousands of Czar's Men Will Be Made Prisoners. Fall of Riga, Grodno and Vilna Anticipated—Operations on the Other Fronts.

London, Sept. 1.—A dispatch received at Berlin from the eastern front says:

"The victorious German armies are cutting the fleeing Russian forces into three sections, with the hope of surrounding smaller units and possibly capturing hundreds of thousands instead of thousands of men. The Russians are still masters of the retreat, says the dispatch, though they are abandoning everything to save their men. It is too early to say whether the next chief movement will be against Petrograd or Odessa. The first important point is to surround and capture a large section of the fleeing army, which is now being driven east into the swamps. After the capture of eight fortresses within three weeks, the fall of Riga, Vilna and Grodno in a short time will not surprise the military observers."

The Russian forces in Galicia, which were rapidly driven back from the Zlota Lipa river to the Stripa, have gathered new strength and are holding the Austrians by a series of furious counter attacks.

North of the Stripa line, however, the Austro-German advance against Luzk and Dubno seems to be progressing with menacing speed. The Austrian official statement says that Swiduchy, Horochow and Radziechow have been reached and that north and northeast of Luzk many prisoners and rich booty fell into the hands of the Teutonic allies.

No Halt in Onward Rush.
East of Brest-Litovsk there has been no hindrance to the onward rush of the Germans. Prashany, which is forty-five miles northeast of Brest-Litovsk, has been occupied, and from the wording of the German statement it would appear that the dense forest district in that region has been pretty clearly swept of Russians.

West and south of Grodno, the one remaining fortress of importance on the original Kovno-Litovsk line, the Germans have drawn up on arc which is but twelve miles from the heart of the city and within easy range of the outer fortifications. But what is perhaps of more importance is the statement from German headquarters that south of the Niemen the German troops are pressing quickly towards the Grodno to Vilna railroad, having taken 2,600 prisoners. The severance of this railroad will leave the investment garrison at Grodno but one railroad of retreat, that which runs west from the city to Minsk.

In the western theater of war, the French continue artillery attacks on the German line and concentration points without as yet any evidence of a general offensive.

The Italians are more active and report the capture of another strong Austrian position southeast of Trent, and some of the Austrian trenches on the Carso, on the road to Trieste.

KILLS SELF ON STREET

Youngstown, O., Sept. 1.—John David, fifty-nine, shot himself through the head with a revolver and fell dead in the street here while being pursued by four policemen. David was being sought for an attack on his eighteen-year-old son, whom he would have shot had not his revolver failed to go off when he pulled the trigger twice as he held the muzzle of the weapon against the lad's temple.

MUST SEEK NEW MARKET

New York, Sept. 1.—A break in the value of the English pound sterling to $4.57½ not only established a new low record, but brought the problem of foreign exchange to a serious point. It was a break of 3½ cents, and was 2½ cents below the mark set weeks ago by bankers and financiers generally as the so-called "irreducible minimum" which, when reached, would cause British buyers to seek other markets in which to place their orders for those imports obtainable elsewhere than in this country.

No such violent break had ever before been recorded in the foreign exchange markets here. The big break in the value of the pound sterling means that English buyers, in addition to the top market prices they are already paying for American products, must pay a premium of 29 cents on every pound's worth of purchases, which is more than 5 per cent.

ITALIANS TAKE MORE TRENCHES

Rome, Sept. 1.—More trenches have been taken from the Austrians in the Carso region as well as in the Alpine district, where Trento is the objective.

The business men's military training camp is a novelty to take note of. The training lasts a month. It is said that in that time novices will surely fit themselves to be volunteer officers. It takes four years at West Point to make an officer. But experience shows that a few weeks' actual campaigning produces very fair officers out of raw material. It is often said by soldiers that the best officers come up from the ranks. Given natural talent for command, an intelligent man can master the primary details of military service in a few weeks. However, this is a democracy, and the people will not take kindly to a military system which is undemocratic. Military service should be shared by all classes, but it would be unfair to instill in the army of volunteers the idea that there was a preferred class for commissions, made up of those who could afford the time and expense of training in time of peace.

Before the big war ends no doubt some of the scrapping nations will be puzzled as to "time to let go" and "time to hang on."

BODIES LOCATED IN SUBMARINE WRECK

Crew Knew That Submarine F-4
Had Serious Defects.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The bodies of several members of the crew of the United States submarine F-4, which sank in Honolulu harbor March 25, have been located in the wreckage, according to a dispatch received at the navy department from Rear Admiral Boush, in charge of the board of naval officers examining the hulk of the submarine.

That the twenty-two officers and men comprising the crew of the F-4, and making up the death total of the accident, started on their last cruise fully aware that their vessel might never make port again, was plainly indicated in a report of the naval board which made the preliminary investigation of the accident. Not only were the members of the crew entirely alive to serious defects in the batteries of the submarine, but according to the report it is a widely known fact in the service that all three of the remaining boats of the F class possess the same defect to an equal or less extent.

In addition to having faulty batteries, the report shows that the F-4's propelling engines possessed inherent faults and were difficult to keep in repair, and that the ability of the officers and crew to regulate the depth to which the submarine could sink depended more on the skill of those in charge than on the accuracy of the mechanical appliances.

Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata."
The story runs that Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata"—always so called, though he so rarely gave a descriptive name to any of his works—was composed on an occasion when he had been playing to some stranger folk by chance. Walking with a friend, he overheard in a humble house some one playing with much feeling a bit of one of his sonatas. He paused to listen. In a moment the music ceased, and a girl spoke longingly of her wish to hear some really good concert. The voice was so appealing that the composer stepped without hesitation to the door and knocked. Admitted to the wondering host, he said, "I will play for you," and played wonderfully. The lamp burned out. Then with the moonlight filling the room he began to improvise—the mysterious delicate breathings of the beginning of that wonderful sonata, then the tricky elf-like second part, and the glory of the close.

FIRST AIR BALLOONS.

Dr. Johnson's Description of the Way
They Were Inflated.

"The chemical philosophers have discovered a body (which I have forgotten, but will inquire) which dissolved by an acid emits a vapor lighter than the atmospheric air. This vapor is caught, among other means, by tying a bladder compressed upon the bottle in which the dissolution is performed.

"The vapor, rising, swells the bladder and fills it. The bladder is then tied and removed and another applied till as much of this light air is collected as is wanted. Then a large spherical case is made, and very large it must be, of the lightest matter that can be found, secured by some method like that of oiling silk against all passage of air.

"Into this are emptied all the bladders of light air, and if there is light air enough it mounts into the clouds upon the same principle as a bottle filled with water will sink in water, but a bottle filled with ether will float. It rises till it comes to air of equal tenacity with its own if wind or water does not spoil it on the way. Such, madam, is an air balloon."—From Dr. Johnson's Letter, Sept. 22, 1783, to Mrs. Thrale.

The Thriftiest Parson.

A supreme example of thrift was the Rev. Robert Walker—the "Wonderful Walker." For the greater part of his life Walker was curate of Leather-waithe, Cumberland, commencing there with a stipend of £5 per annum. His wife brought him a fortune of £40, and on the interest of this and his £5 annually Walker reared a family of eight. When after twenty years his stipend was raised to £17 10s. a year he continued to save. And not only did the family "live well, though plainly," but, as he declared with justifiable pride, his children never lacked any of the necessities of life and were given an education to fit them for any rank of society, the boys, indeed, going to one of the universities.—London Standard.

CARLYLE'S TEMPER.

It Was the Very Reverse of Bad, Said
His Old Maid-servant.

Carlyle had tempered? Not at all, if we are to place any belief in the testimony of the maid behind the broom. One of Carlyle's servants, Jessie, who on marrying became Mrs. Broadfoot, has left a very favorable impression of her old master, says the London Standard.

"I could have lived with him all my days," she says, "and it always makes me angry when I read, as I sometimes do, that he was bad tempered. He was the very reverse, in my opinion. I never would have left him when I did if I had not been going to get married. I took great pride in attending on him and studying all his wants and wishes.

"It was one of my duties to rush out and move on all street organs and things of that kind. Many a time in the morning before he rose I used to fill his pipe, the short clay he used in his bedroom, for him and strike the match to light it. I always cut up his tobacco (he bought it in flat cakes) and kept his tin box regularly supplied. He was always so grateful for these little services."

So much for popular belief and the dictum of the democratic servant biographer.

The Secret of a Good Figure often lies in the brassiere. Hundreds of thousands of women wear the Bien-Jolie Brassiere for the reason that they regard it as necessary as a corset. It supports the bust and back and gives the figure the youthful outline fashion desires.

BIEN-JOLIE are the daintiest, most serviceable garments imaginable. Only the best of materials are used—for instance, "Wolohn", a flexible boning of great durability—absolutely rustless—permitting laundering without removal.

They come in all styles, and your local Dry Goods dealer will show them to you on request. If he does not carry them, he can easily get them for you by writing to us. Send for an illustrated booklet showing styles that are in high favor.

WILSON TO TAKE MIDDLE GROUND

National Defense Idea Becoming a Political Issue.

BIG AND LITTLE NAVY MEN AT IT

Just How Many Battleships and Submarines and How Large an Army Increase the President Will Recommend Are Still Open Questions. Missouri Incident That Shows Trend of Developments.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Opinion is rapidly developing here that the national defense issue is becoming more and more a political question, and that inasmuch as this is true, the difficulties of the president are multiplying.

Senator Kern's visit to the White House and the interview he gave out in sympathy with the recent utterances of Representative Kitchin, the next majority leader of the house, emphasized the difficulties which the president faces from a large wing of his own party members in congress. Colonel Roosevelt's utterances and the propaganda of the national defense organizations, it was said, mark the other extreme from the administration's present viewpoint. The effect of the two elements in the political situation regarding national defense is to leave the administration between two fires.

SHUT OUT IN THREE

Boston, Sept. 1.—By winning both ends of a double-header the Braves made it three shutouts in a row from the Reds. Manager Stallings sent Neff to the mound in the opener. He allowed but four safe blows. In the second game Tom Hughes did the work, allowing three hits and one pass. Score:

President Wilson's friends declare that he decries the attempt being made to give the national defense issue a political character. They believe that it is really an issue made by the people themselves in the light of the conditions which have developed in the last several months, and that no political party or party faction may properly claim priority in having taken the initiative in regard to this issue.

Takes Middle Ground.

The best information obtainable as to the president's policy is that he intends to take the middle ground between the two extremes. Just now many battleships and submarines and how large an army increase he will recommend are open questions, and it is indicated that the president intends to take plenty of time in making up his mind.

A recent interchange of personalities in Missouri has attracted attention here as emphasizing the trend of developments in regard to the national defense issue. Major A. W. Dickenson, a former staunch friend of Colonel William J. Bryan, has been sent on a speaking tour of the west by the navy league, supposedly to combat the influences of the former secretary of state in that section against a big navy program. Recently in Missouri he was assailed by Representative Walter L. Hensley, a member of the committee on naval affairs, who declared that the manufacturers are financing the big navy program. It is feared here that this is only a mild sample of what is to come when the big and the little navy men clash in congress.

THE LINCOLN MEMORIAL.

A Curious and Unique Lighting Scheme to Be One of Its Features.

The Lincoln memorial, now under construction in Washington, will be the costliest monument ever erected to the memory of one man. Its cost will be $2,000,000. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Transcript, describing the plans of the architect, says:

The memorial will stand on a broad terrace forty feet above grade and with a radius of 1,000 feet. It will be of pure Colorado marble. The colonnade, on all the four sides, 188 feet long and 118 feet wide, will contain thirty-eight columns forty-four feet high and seven feet five inches in diameter at the base. The great central hall will be sixty feet wide and high and seventy feet long. In the center will stand a heroic statue of Lincoln. The lighting scheme is unique. The only light admitted to the chamber is to come through marble panels, one inch in thickness, set in the ceiling.

Each panel is 2 by 4 feet, and each series of three panels will be divided by bronze beams four feet deep, worked in oak and laurel leaf designs. The rays from lamps or sun will fall softly upon the head of the martyred president, as like as human genius can conceive it to the "light that never was on sea or land."

On the north wall, set in an immense marble tablet with bronze letters, will be Lincoln's second inaugural address. From the south wall in the same design will stand forth the immortal phrases of the Gettysburg speech. Before each tablet will be set four pillars, so placed as to give the effect of dividing the hall into separate chambers and making that in which the statue stands an inner shrine.

The plans show a lagoon extending in front of the memorial 2,000 feet toward the Washington monument. The work will probably be completed in the spring of 1918.

Turkey's Weak Sultan.

Mehmed V., sultan of Turkey, was imprisoned for practically his entire life by his brother, the former Sultan Abdul Hamid, until the Young Turks overturned Abdul Hamid and brought Mehmed out of his seclusion to be placed on the throne. He was then sixty-five years old. Although credited with being a man of good intentions, the sultan has been considered a puppet in the hands of Enver Pasha and the inner circle of the committee of union and progress. His seclusion for so many years is said to have ruined his initiative and executive ability.

The Paper We Make.

The United States is the greatest paper-producing country in the world by a very wide margin. In 1909 the total value of the products of the American paper mills was nearly $270,000,000, and if the rate of increase recorded for a half dozen years previous to 1909 has held good since the present annual production is well over $300,000,000. That total is nearly three times the value of the product of the next great producing country—Germany.

After the War.

A well known American writer thinks that the signing of peace will lead to an emigration movement that will amaze the world. After the Franco-German war in 1870, 200,000 Germans settled in three of the American states—Nebraska, Minnesota and Iowa, which are now German-American—Indianapolis News.

NORWAY IS SORE TRIED BY BRITISH

Christiania, Norway, September 1. — (Correspondence of the Associated Press) — Norwegian ship owners complain bitterly against the practice of English warships in forcing Norwegian vessels bound for Norway to put back to a British port. In many cases these Norwegian ships have been outside of the war zone, and, on their being forced to return to British ports they have been the victims of German submarines. Had the vessels been left alone by the British ships they would have reached their home port safely.

Protests from Norway to England have been met by the answer that the British government will hold itself responsible for Norwegian shipping that is treated in this manner, but the Norwegian owners continue to see their ships destroyed.

The question has become especially acute since the Norwegian-American line steamer Trondhjemsfjord was torpedoed by a German submarine July 31. An English cruiser had stopped the steamer, put a prize crew on board and directed the vessel's course to Kirkwall, when the torpedoing occurred. The Norwegian press complaining against the British Admiralty assert that the steamer was loaded in New York under the supervision of three inspectors from the British consulate who sealed the ship's hatches, and among the ship's papers was an affidavit from the consulate to the effect that the ship had no other cargo than what the papers showed. Aside from this, the Norwegian government had guaranteed that possible contraband would not be reshipped from Norway to any of the belligerent countries. Notwithstanding this the ship was seized, prize flag hoisted and the unlawful prize was directed toward Kirkwall. The chief of the German submarine torpedoed the steamer because it was brought from England last December and was therefore, according to instructions considered to be an English ship.

The loss of the Trondhjemsfjord amounts to several million dollars, only partly covered by insurance. There was no contraband on board according to German rules. The cargo consisted of 60,000 bushels of grain, pork and tobacco.

The loss of Norwegian ships since the war broke out a year ago amounts to about $10,000,000 of which only four million was covered by insurance—the rest falls on the ship owners. The majority of the ships have been torpedoed by German submarines, several without warning.

Mrs. Rowe's Sunday school class will hold a sale of eatables in Hughes' Ice Cream parlor, Saturday, beginning at 10 o'clock.

TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS FILE SETTLEMENTS

The township boards of Education are filing their financial statements with the county auditor for the fiscal year ending Sept. 1st.

Urie Acton, clerk of the Jasper township Board of Education, was the first to file. His statement shows receipts for the year, including balance on Sept. 1st, 1914, of $11,452.73. Expenditures to Sept. 1, 1915, were $6573.29, leaving a balance on hand amounting to $4,879.34.

J. W. Jones, clerk of the Green township Board of Education, was the second to file. His statement shows receipts for the year, including balance on hand Sept. 1, 1914 to have been $13,473.06. Expenditures for the year were $5,000.36, leaving a balance of $8,472.70 on hand.

CLINTON-ATHLETIC SERIES ARRANGED

Four Games to Be Played, Each Team to Be Allowed Twelve Players.

The Washington Athletics and the Wilmington Clintons have come together on another series of ball games, four in all, to be played as follows:

At Wilmington — September 12 and September 26.
At Washington — September 19 and October 3.

The contract has not yet been completed. Each team is to be allowed twelve players, whose names will appear in the contract, and no others may be run into either lineup during the series. When the teams have selected each their twelve men, the contract will be closed.

IDENTIFICATION IS IMPOSSIBLE

By Associated Press. Honolulu, September 1. — Naval officers in charge of the wrecked United States submarine F-4 indicated today that there was small hope of identifying the 21 remaining bodies in the vessel.

Little of them is left except their skeletons, mixed with the debris of the sea.

Only one body had been identified, that of George T. Ashcroft.

Miss Burger said the shot came from another automobile which passed them, but she could give no explanation for the assault.

MANUAL BLOCK SYSTEM EXAMS

The recent disastrous wreck at Orient with its terrible toll in human life, is the reason assigned for the proposed installation of the block system on the Midland division of the B. & O. railroad.

In conformity to the plan as announced, Mr. G. W. Plumly, of Chillicothe, is conducting examinations of applicants for manual block service, visiting points along the line for this purpose. On Wednesday Mr. Plumly examined three applicants in this city.

DEADLY SUBMARINES.

Menace of the Machines That Strike the Enemy in the Dark.

Submarines have many elements which make them a dangerous menace, but there are also many weaknesses which partially offset their offensive qualities. Traveling under water, they are invisible from ships except as the periscope is shot above the surface to reconnoiter. But they are quite easily seen from air craft, even when maneuvering at a great depth. They are unattackable by gunfire, except when they come to the surface, when their frail structure makes them particularly liable to sudden destruction. As they cannot be seen, they cannot be attacked by torpedoes from the ships they are after, but if the periscope comes up and the submarine is thus located she is liable to gunfire and torpedo attack and to being rammed or run down.

The limited view from the periscope, due to its restricted elevation above the water surface, makes it almost hopeless to attempt an attack in darkness. But the little vessel can travel long distances at night and be ready at break of dawn to spread destruction broadcast. The submarine can easily avoid a blockading fleet by passing beneath it. As its motions cannot be followed with the eye, the submarine possesses to an unusual degree the essential elements for delivering a surprise attack.

One of the chief means of dodging submarines is to keep continually on the move, changing direction frequently and keeping a sharp lookout for the spying periscope. — Leslie's.

A Gilbert Story. Sir W. S. Gilbert, who was one of the few playwrights who defied the stage censor, was noted for his caustic criticisms on anything which did not meet with his approval.

While dining out once some one happened to ask him his opinion of Burne Jones' women. "Too long in the neck," remarked the author of "The Mikado." "When I look at one of them I always feel that she ought to have a joint in it and wear a stocking." — London Tit-Bits.

The Poppy. The poppy throughout the east is an emblem of death. In many parts of India this flower is planted upon graves and in cemeteries. Whether or not the idea was suggested by the poisonous character of the juice is uncertain. It is believed that the poppy was known as a funeral plant to the ancient Egyptians, for upon the tombs opened by Belzoni there appeared representations of plants which were evidently intended for poppies. — Pittsburgh Press.

STARTING A BRIDGE.

The Boy Who Was a Good Kiteflier Came in Handy.

Some years ago there died in Nebraska a man named Walsh, who as a boy started a suspension bridge. When Walsh was about ten years old the first steps for the construction of the suspension bridge at Niagara were taken. The first thing necessary was the stretching of a single wire across the chasm. The engineer in charge had thought of a way to get it across.

"What boy is the best kiteflier in town?" he asked.

The Walsh boy was named as the best kiteflier in the town of Niagara Falls, and the engineer accordingly asked that he be brought to him. He was made to understand that he must fly his kite across the Niagara river. He flew it across and allowed it to come down on the other side. Men were there to seize it. Then the engineer attached a wire to the string on his side, and the men on the other side detached the kite and by means of the string drew the wire across. By this, in turn, a cable was drawn across, and the bridge was well begun.—Harper's.
